ARMY PLANE STILL IN AIR

GOVERNOR REFUSES TO SAVE DOOMED WOMAN

HEARST WASTING $25,000 ON WET PLAN, SAYS WILL

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3. — See where Mr. Hearst has offered twenty-five thousand now for some plan to get the Eighteenth Amendment out of the Constitution and into effect.

This twenty-five is being thrown away on ... the same as Durant's twenty-five on the plan to enforce prohibition.

It's not going to be enforced, and it's not going to be taken out of the Constitution and there is where I will win my five back on W. R. if he will bet me, but he is too smart to think either one of these will happen.

It's in our Constitution and will stay as long as there is a bottle left.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

As a publicity stunt, W. R. Hearst's offer of a prize of $25,000 for suggestions as to best methods of proceeding to take the 18th amendment out of the constitution, may have some appeal, but as a practical step, it is worthless. Most any school boy knows how to get the 18th amendment out of the constitution if it is the will of the people. But it isn't the will of the people, outside of the few metropolitan centres, hence there will be no progress along this line, no matter what theories and visionary plans may be suggested to win the prize.

What Pa Newc cannot understand is the practice of many persons, women especially, of getting off a street car and then starting to cross the street directly in front of the car. If the motorman was not always on the alert for such recklessness there would be many accidents to report, Pa Newc is afraid.

Service corporations are planning expenditure of large sums in improvements in this district during the year, according to announcements. Steady development of the district requires that the corporations keep a step ahead, and this means continual expansion and improvement.

Hundreds of New Castle and Lawrence county folks who have visited Valley Forge will be interested to know that a Philadelphia couple celebrated the arrival of the new year by having the marriage ceremony performed in the Washington Memorial chapel at Valley Forge at midnight Monday. More than 1000 persons witnessed the wedding.

It was mighty cold this morning when Pa Newc left home for the office, but imagine how cold it was after he had accepted an invitation from a kind friend to ride down the hill in an open car. Br-r-r-r.

If you are a merchant and have received one of the national survey credit blanks, fill it in and send it back. Ray Hall was given charge of the survey here and it isn't pleasant to be donated a job and then not get the cooperation of merchants.

They say that hotel clerks must answer all types of questions. You should hear some of the ones that The News gets. Generally the force can't answer them either but they are so used to "tuffners" coming in that they are not fazed in the least.

County basketball will again swoop down on the country side Friday evening. One of the Pa Newc family has seen several of the teams in action and the forecast is that there will be some mighty fine bucket shooting throughout the county games.

It always has been one of Pa Newc's pet ambitions to be a Great Man, sit back in an upholstered chair and issue Statements to newshawks. Like Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury who calmly says that 1929 will keep the prosperity pace set in the past year. Mellon says that the market will continue practically the same as in 1928.

No Execution Stay, Declares Governor Long

Dr. T. E. Dreher And Mrs. Ada Lebouef To Be Hanged On Saturday

CLEMENCY APPEALS FAIL TO SAVE PAIR

Both Convicted On Charge Of Murdering Husband Of Mrs. Lebouef

By HARRY LESENE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

FRANKLIN, La., Jan. 3.—Forty-eight hours before the time set for their execution, Mrs. Ada Bonner Lebouef and Dr. T. E. Dreher, conspirators in the slaying of the former's husband, learned today that their last dim hope had flickered away.

Governor Huey P. Long of Louisiana, the only man who could have commuted their sentences to life imprisonment, has announced definitely that he will not intervene in the double hanging of the man and woman, set for between the hours of 12 and three p. m. Saturday, and Sheriff Charles Pecot of Franklin has started erecting the scaffold from which they will be hanged.

Couple Were Hopeful

Until word came of the governor's announcement Mrs. Lebouef and Dr. Dreher both had been hopeful.

"I guess that's our last chance gone," said Dr. Dreher when he learned of the chief executive's decision. Mrs. Lebouef did not speak, but turned her face and gazed out of the window of her cell.

A close study of the case, a parallel to the famous Gray-Snyder murder, was made by Governor Long before he finally came to a decision. His reconsideration of the case came as a result of the state pardon board's recommendation that he extend executive mercy to the doomed couple.

Mercy Is Asked

Women's club organizations, 11 of the 12 jurors who brought in the hanging verdict, newspaper reporters who covered the Lebouef-Dreher trial, and individuals in every walk of life, flooded the chief executive with appeals to save the conspirator-slayers from the gallows. There had been threats against his life if he permitted the hangings or if he stopped them.

Northcott Will Change His Plea To "Not Guilty"

Plan To Have Northcott Plead "Not Guilty By Reason Of Insanity" Balked

INSANITY INQUIRY MAY BE ORDERED

(International News Service)

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Jan. 3.—Balked in his effort to plead "not guilty by reason of insanity," Gordon Stewart Northcott, accused of slaying four youths on his chicken ranch near here, today is expected to enter a plea of "not guilty" when his trial is resumed.

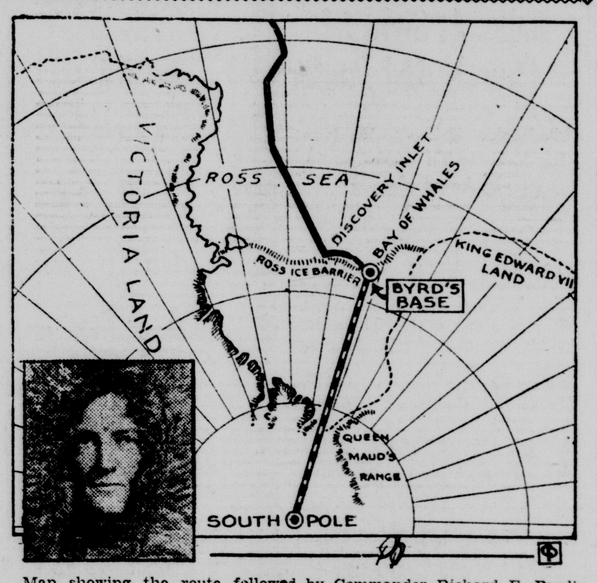

The youthful Northcott is charged with slaying Walter Collins, an unidentified Mexican youth thought to be Alvin Gothea, and Nelson and Lewie Winslow. His apprehension was brought about by the story of his nephew, Sanford Clark, who told officers that he was compelled to participate in the murders. He admitted that he and his uncle mistreated the youths before they were killed.

Young Clark also implicated Mrs. Louise Northcott, Gordon's mother, in the slaying of Walter Collins. She recently pleaded guilty here and has begun to serve a life term in San Quentin prison.

Northcott and his mother fled from the United States into Canada and were finally brought back to stand trial.

In denying Northcott the plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity," the court held that the defense had not presented sufficient evidence to warrant such a plea. As the trial progresses, attorneys pointed out, the court has the right to order an insanity inquiry if it is convinced there is a basis for such a move.

Anti-Toxin To Stop Diphtheria Spread In Northern Canadian Village On Way

INTREPID FLIER BATTLING COLD

Captain Wilfred May, Edmonton Ace, Is Speeding With Serum To Small Outpost

(International News Service)

EDMONTON, Alta., Canada, Jan. 3.—In answer to a plea from the vast reaches of the Arctic to save a life placed in jeopardy through the inroads and ravages of diphtheria, Captain Wilfred ("Wop") May, intrepid Edmonton aviator and noted air force ace during the World War, was flying to Little Red River today with 200,000 units of anti-toxin. One man is already dead, another is dying and the serum is urgently needed to prevent a spread of the disease at the post, which is fifty miles north of Fort Vermillion and about 800 miles from Edmonton in a direct line.

Captain May was to leave McLennon this morning in his commercial plane on the last leg of the race against death. He is expected to reach his destination this afternoon. The machine is open and in order to prepare the pilot for the intensely cold weather, a specially prepared electrically heated suit had to be manufactured.

The message for help had been forwarded from the post partly by means of a dog team, it was an urgent request from Dr. Hammon, the physician at the post. In the ordinary course of events about two weeks at least and possibly more would be required to transport the serum to its destination.

Allege Father Kills Two Sons

(International News Service)

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Jan. 3.—Charles Twells, said to have been at one time a practicing physician in Indiana, was held here today on a murder charge, the outcome of a triple shooting late yesterday in which Twells' sons, Kenneth, 11, and Colin, nine, were killed.

Twells' brother-in-law, Arthur Corfield, was twice wounded in the head and his condition is said to be serious.

Corfield went to the Twells home to clarify the division of equipment of a farm which both worked on shares. They quarreled over the division and Twells is alleged to have shot Corfield with the pistol and then, for some unknown reason, shot and killed his two young sons.

Big Cruiser Bill Will Come After Action On Treaty

Such Is Indicated Course In Senate From Present Outlook

FRESH OBSTACLES FOR CRUISER BILL

Injection Of Vare Controversy May Sidetrack Treaty And Cruiser Bill

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Supporters of the Kellogg-Briand treaty, by which the nations of the world pledge the outlawry of war, appeared today to have won their race for ratification of the compact by the senate before final action is taken on the administration's new cruiser bill.

An agreement has been entered by Republican leaders to initiate debate on the treaty this afternoon while action on the naval bill will be postponed temporarily until the treaty is ratified. The treaty advocates hope to secure that ratification within a week.

The old "irreconciliable" group, however, has declared war on the peace treaty unless a "resolution of explanation" is adopted coincidentally with the ratification. This resolution would notify the world that in approving the treaty, the United States reserves the right to act at any time in "self defense" or in defense of any traditional American policy, exempts herself from the conditions of any other treaty and places herself on record as refusing to use force against any nation violating the compact. Administration leaders opposed the resolution on the ground the conditional ratification was unnecessary and that all American rights were protected under the treaty.

See Fresh Obstacles

The decision to consider the treaty before the naval bill will throw fresh obstacles in the path of enactment for the latter measure. Large

Remove Toy From Throat

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 3.—Baby Frank Brooks, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brooks, Asco, W. Va., is recovering today following the removal of a toy motorcycle an inch and a half long, from his throat late yesterday. The baby swallowed the toy about three weeks ago while eating candied popcorn, in which the toy had been inserted as a prize.

Physicians inserted an esophagus-scope into the child's throat and withdrew the obstruction. Anesthetic was not used and the process required but a minute, it was said. An incision was not required.

Canada Desires Larger Portion Of Radio Waves

North American Conference Called In Effort To Reach Agreement

MEXICO AND CUBA ALSO MAKE CLAIMS

Other Countries Blame U. S. For Taking High Frequency Channels

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3. — A North American conference to arrange a distribution of available high frequency radio channels will be held in Ottawa probably January 31, it was learned today.

Indications point to the development of a bitter fight with Canada, Mexico and Cuba arraigned against the United States. The other North American countries are not satisfied with their radio facilities, either high frequency or the channels within the broadcast band.

To Attempt Agreement

The Federal Radio Commission, State Department, and probably the Navy Department, will be represented at Ottawa where an effort will be made to work out an agreement satisfactory to all countries.

The radio commission recently assigned many of the short waves, but reserved eighty-eight channels, announcing that their distribution would be subject of discussion by the North American countries.

A preliminary meeting was held last August and a tentative allocation of the short waves arranged. The conference adjourned so that the plan could be given adequate study. Mexico was not represented.

Oppose U. S. Stand.

The other North American countries insisted that the United States has taken possession of an unwarranted proportion of the high frequency channels. Development of the more specialized and commercial uses of radio in the short wave bands have been hampered as a result of the big share of facilities appropriated by this country, it was claimed.

The proposed agreement would allocate the entire band between the various types of service, determine the standard of separation, the number of channels available for each type of service, in which types of service and in which portions of the band

Death Takes Aged Couple Within Two Days Time At Home On Euclid Avenue

After living together for over half a century, William Watson Crocker, aged 84 years and his wife, Amanda Roberts Crocker, aged 82, well known residents of Euclid avenue, were separated but a short time by death.

Mr. Crocker died Monday, December 31, after a week's illness of pneumonia and his wife passed away Wednesday evening from a short illness of the same disease.

Double Funeral

On account of the critical illness of Mrs. Crocker, the funeral services planned for her husband for Wednesday afternoon, were postponed and a double funeral will be conducted for both Mr. and Mrs. Crocker on Friday, January 4 at 2:30 p. m. from their late home on Euclid avenue with Rev. C. O. Whitford of the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist church in charge, assisted by Rev. W. F. Francis. Burial will be made in King's Chapel cemetery.

Mrs. Croker was born in Shenango township, July 13, 1846, a daughter of Samuel and Mary Bennett Roberts. Mr. and Mrs. Crocker had been residents for many years of Euclid ave-

Penn-Ohio System Will Spend Million In Local District

Important improvements in the facilities of the Pennsylvania Power company for service throughout the New Castle and Harmony districts are included in the $5,000,000 budget of capital expenditures of the Penn-Ohio system for 1929.

More than $1,000,000 will be expended in this district alone for increases in capacities of substations, transmissions and distribution facilities.

With the new power transmission line coming direct from the Toronto power station to the New Castle and Ellwood City section completed and placed in service last November the important activities of the new year will be in the substation termini for that and the other power circuits coming into this territory.

New Sub Station.

The Cedar street substation capacity will be increased by 15,000 kve. and a new outdoor substation will be built at the site of the Washington street substation, the present indoor substation being continued for distribution, street lights and railway circuits and switching apparatus.

In the Harmony section alone, which was added to the territory served by the Penn-Ohio system in the last year approximately $600,000 will be expended to improve facilities and bring the service there to the standard of P.-O service in the other sections served. The program outlined will keep the construction force busy throughout the year.

The most modern and efficient facilities will be installed in six major substations in this territory while other improvements will be in connection with many smaller substations and with the distribution facilities throughout the Harmony district.

Girl Flier In Air 12 Hours

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 3.—The world's record for sustained flight for women today was held by Bobbie Trout, 22-year-old aviatrix, who bettered the record recently set by Viola Gentry at Roosevelt Field by some four hours. Miss Trout remained aloft in her tiny plane for 12 hours and 11 minutes.

When Miss Trout brought her plane to earth last night, every drop of fuel had been used. She apparently was not fatigued by her stay aloft and was mostly concerned about the oil smudges on her face.

Report Herrick Now Recovering

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 3.—Myron T. Herrick, U. S. Ambassador to France, was reported recovering today from an illness which was regarded as critical Tuesday night.

About 10 days ago the ambassador was taken ill with a bronchial infection and has been kept at his home, in Chagrin Falls, near here, since that time. Tuesday night, two tanks of oxygen and a nurse were sent from a Cleveland hospital but it was not necessary to administer the oxygen.

Parents Agree To Return Wife To Her Husband

Detained At Home On Chestnut Street After Elopement To Cumberland, Md.

NO HEARING HELD ON HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

Elopement of Chester Samuel Hogue and Miss Hazel Marie Fauzey which took place on December 28, 1928, according to a habeas corpus writ before Judge Chambers this morning, ended amicably when the parents of the young woman agreed to return her to her husband.

According to the petition for the writ, Hogue, who is over 21 years of age, and Hazel Fauzey, 18, went to Cumberland, Md., on December 28, where they were married by Rev. Nade Johnson.

They returned to this city soon after, and on January 1, the girl's mother, Cecelia Fauzey came to where they were stopping and asked Mrs. Hogue to come home, as her father, A. Boyd Fauzey, was ill.

Hogue took his wife to the Fauzey home. She was admitted but Hogue was not. It was claimed in the petition for the writ of habeas corpus, that the parents refused to let their daughter go back to her husband.

Hearing was fixed for this morning, but after it was learned that the young man was over 21 and the young woman, 18, it appeared that the marriage was legal in Maryland. After some consultation between the parties and their attorneys, it was agreed by the parents that they would return their daughter to her husband without a hearing.

Five Detained In Child Kidnapping

Five Held In Ohio For Disappearance Of Melvin Horst, At Orrville

(International News Service)

WOOSTER, O., Jan. 3.—Investigation of the week-old mystery of the disappearance of Melvin Horst, four, at Orrville, shifted here today with the lodging of five persons in the Wayne county jail, all charged with child stealing. They are Elias Arnold, 55, his two sons, William, 30 of Akron, and Arthur, 25; his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy McHenry, 28, and her husband, Bascom McHenry.

They are being held in default of $10,000 bail for grand jury action, having been bound over last night by Mayor A. U. Weygandt of Orrville.

Grand jury action will be based on the theory that "the Arnolds harbored a grudge against Marshal Roy Horst because of his persisten prosecution of bootleggers," and that "they stole Melvin believing him to be Marshal's son," according to Prosecuting Attorney Walter J. Mougey.

Mougey stated today it is his belief that Melvin is dead. He bases this theory on the fact that Melvin is a nephew of Marshal Horst instead of his son and that if the lad had been alive the alleged kidnappers would have returned him after learning of their mistake.

Warrants charging child stealing were issued on the basis of the fact that evidence indicated Melvin was last seen in the home of the Elder Arnold, Prosecutor Mougey declared.

Endurance Plane Remaining Aloft During Third Day

Has Been Refueled While In Flight Several Times Already

EXISTING RECORDS HAVE BEEN BROKEN

Refueling Is Easily Done; Plane Is Still Going Strong

(International News Service)

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 3.—Refueling once again successfully here at seven a. m., coast time, the army endurance plane, "Question Mark", today started on its third day in the air with every indication that it would remain aloft until the three huge Whirlwind motors stopped running.

The giant tri-motored plane at 7:10 a. m. has already been in the air approximately 48 hours and has broken the existing refueling plane endurance record.

It made its second night refueling at two a. m. today after dropping a green flare over the field. It took on 150 gallons of gasoline at this time as easily as a fast train picking up mail on the fly.

School Absences Much Decreased

Only About 500 Absent As School Resumes, Says Supt. Green

New Castle schools opened this morning with every evidence that the flu epidemic which existed at the close of schools for the Christmas vacation had abated sharply if it had not entirely disappeared.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools stated today that while he did not have an accurate check of every school in the city, that an unofficial check showed only about 500 students absent out of a total of approximately 11,000.

"This seems to point to the near elimination of the epidemic," said Dr. Green, "and I am hoping that we will have no more trouble from the disease.

When the calendar points to June or July, and the orchards are white and there's blue in the sky, then I like lots of weather that's balmy and warm, with a freedom from frost and a freedom from storm. But when it gets round to the end of the year, then I look for the days to be chilly and drear. I expect lots of snow with a blizzard or two, and I don't mind a sleet storm that roars its way through. Now the weather this winter is tricky I wot, some days have been warm and have almost been hot. It isn't a bit like those of winters of old, when ten below zero was just getting cold. When the pump froze up tight and the spigots went bad, and the wind nipped the nose of each lassie and lad. And I want to see snow and I want to see ice, for weather we're getting is not very nice. It means plenty cold when Jack Frost should be through, it looks cold today down to just thirty-two.

Beaver Pomona Installation By Local Grangers

Lawrence County Grangers Will Install Beaver Pomona Officers

Local Pomona Grange Officers Install Many Through County

Friday evening, Lawrence county Pomona grange master David Kyle will go to Beaver where he will act as installation officer for the county Pomona and subordinate granges at that place. Mr. Kyle will be assisted by Mrs. Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Munnel, and Mrs. W. O. Mayberry.

This is but a small part of the installation ceremonies for officers for various granges in Lawrence and other counties at which the local Pomona master and others of local granges are officiating.

On the night of January 1, officers were installed in the Liberty grange by Mrs. F. S. Forbes. The same evening, state overseer J. A. Boak installed the officers at the Big Beaver grange.

Plaingrove grange officers have been installed and Pomona master Kyle acted in the installation of Butler county grange officers which took place in the gymnasium at Slippery Rock on January 1.

Tuesday, January 8, Mr. and Mrs. Kyle will install the juvenile and subordinate grange officers at the Mahoning Valley grange in Mahoning township while on January 17, they will act as installation officers at the meeting of the Wilmington grange.

Following this on January 22, the Pomona master and Mrs. Kyle will serve at the installation of the officers of the Willard grange.

Assistant Chief Stockman Leaves

He And Mrs. Stockman Leave For Motor Trip To Keystone Heights, Florida

Assistant Fire Chief and Mrs. H. Clare Stockman left this city this morning on a motor trip to Keystone, Heights, Fla.

The trip is to be made by easy stages, stopping to hunt and fish at various points en route to Florida.

They expect to stop a week or 10 days in Great Smoky Mountains in North Carolina, where they will hunt deer, bear and wild turkey.

From that point they will go to Reelfoot Lake in Georgia to hunt ducks and quail and fish for some of the large bass that this lake is noted for.

They will then go to Keystone Heights, Fla., where they will make their permanent camp on Lake Panasofkee. Here they will try to land some of the 10 to 20-pound bass that are caught there. The natives of that place claim there are more bass and pickerel in this lake than there are in all the hatcheries in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Stockman have a complete camping outfit, including a motor trailer, and will make many side trips into the wilds of Florida to hunt and fish.

This trip is being made for the benefit of Assistant Chief Stockman's health, which has not been good for some time. They expect to remain away two or three months.

BIG CRUISER BILL WILL COME AFTER ACTION ON TREATY

groups of pacifists, while endorsing the treaty, have opposed the naval bill, which authorizes the construction of fifteen new cruisers and a giant aircraft carrier. Opponents of the bill have declared the United States would be subjected to charges of hypocrisy, if after ratifying a treaty to outlaw all war, it began strengthening the navy.

The administration proposed the increase in cruisers in order to bring America's cruiser strength closer to that of Great Britain. Even with the construction of fifteen new warships, the United States would still have a navy weaker than that of Great Britain. The increase was advocated on the ground that America must be prepared in event of war, regardless of treaties. Administration leaders pointed to the fate of Belgium in 1914 as indicating the value of a treaty when war clouds loom.

Vare Case May Protrude

While the treaty advocates predict early ratification, their plans may be jeopardized by the Vare case, involving the seating of Senator-Elect William S. Vare (R) of Pennsylvania. The Reed "slush fund" committee will meet tomorrow to consider Vare's case and there is a strong liklihood that the committee will recommend an immediate decision by the senate. Vare was denied the oath of office in December, 1927, and ever since then has stood on the senatorial sidelines, a senator without a seat.

If called up in the senate by Senator James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, the Vare case would take precedence over the treaty. Under such circumstances, ratification of the treaty might be postponed for a week or two. This delay would give the administration a difficult task to secure enactment of the cruiser bill afterwards. A simple filibuster, such as has characterized every closing session of congress, would easily block its enactment.

The crime for which Mrs. Lebouef and Dr. Dreher were sentenced to hang went down in Louisiana annals as one of the most revolting on record. The dissected body of James L. Philadelphia Bride-To-Be Hunting Minister To Wed Couple In Automobile

(International News Service)

CHESTERTOWN, Md., Jan. 3. — Somewhere along the eastern shore of Chesapeake Bay today a Philadelphia bride-to-be is seeking a minister who is willing to stage an auto wedding ceremony for a somewhat recalcitrant swain.

The prospective groom, the bride-to-be claims, is overcome with stage fright when it comes to entering a church or minister's home to have the ceremony performed. Several times the couple have visited ministers and both confessed their desire to become man and wife but each time when called upon to enter a parson's home the groom beat a hasty retreat.

The bashful swain each time told the minister all would be well if he would visit their automobile and perform the ceremony there but each time the parson refused. So today the couple are reported motoring through Southern Maryland seeking a minister willing to perform the ceremony in the automobile.

Makes Report Of December Weather

Temperature For Month Was 2.6 Degrees Above Normal

December 21 and 22 were the two coldest days of the past month, for on both of these days the temperature dropped to nine degrees above zero, says the report of weather conditions for the past month, which is made available today by B. F. Johnson of the City of New Castle Water company.

The mean maximum temperature for the month was 40.9 degrees while the mean minimum temperature was 25.7 degrees. This made a mean temperature of 33.3 degrees.

The total rainfall for the month was 1.77 inches. The temperature for December, states Mr. Johnson, was 2.6 degrees above the regular December normal, but, on the other hand, the precipitation was .69 inches below normal. The river stage as taken at the pump station of the company is now a foot lower than it was a year ago.

Boyd School Makes Attendance Report

Pupils of the Boyd school who have been neither absent nor tardy during the month of December are:

Joseph Bober, Helen Rice, Albeft Presnar, Stanley Rice and John Presnar.

Percentage of attendance for the month for the girls was 79 and for the boys 86. To date the percentage of attendance for the girls is 91, while that for the boys is 94. Mrs. Mildred Mershimer Miller, teacher.

Over 500 Dog Licenses Are So Far Issued

Many Sending For Licenses By Mail Fail To Inclose Sufficient Money

County Treasurer Adda M. Smiley has issued to date 537 dog licenses for the year 1929. All dogs in the county must be licensed by Tuesday, Jan. 15, according to law. Dogs not having a license by that date can be killed by the proper officers.

Some misunderstanding as to the cost of a dog license exists and is causing considerable trouble at the treasurer's office when applicants send for their licenses by mail. They invariably enclose $1 for a male dog and $2 for a female dog license.

This is not sufficient. A male dog license is $1.10 and a female $2.20.

When an applicant sends but one dollar it means that the treasurer must write to the applicant for more money. As there are about 6,000 dog licenses issued in this county, the extra ten cents amounts to something. Of course, the majority of the licenses are issued at the county treasurer's office, but there are many issued by mail.

Those wishing dog licenses by mail should enclose $1.10 and also a self-addressed envelope.

Those who wish to avoid the rush which always comes as the time limit nears should secure their licenses now

Warden Sets More Bunnies Loose

Game Warden Frank Johnston, with the assistance of Tommy O'Brien, is setting loose some 200 more Kansas rabbits in the county today, it is reported.

Recently some 150 were set free in the county, it is stated, and the addition of the bunnies today will make nearly 400 that have been set free to roam the entire county for next year.

Rabbits freed this morning were taken to Shenango, Mahoning and Union townships. This means that practically every district in the county has been included in the restocking by the county game warden.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

Standard Bearers

Mrs. John Emery of Euclid avenue entertaned the members of the Standard Bearers of the First M. E. church at the January meeting at her home Wednesday evening.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Emery acted as leader. The chapter assigned from the study book, "The Voyage of Good Will" was discussed by Evelyn Burleson and others. Josephene Abbott and Katherine Free were associate hostesses of the evening.

The next meeting will take place in February.

Spiritual Services

Spiritual services will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. Price of 1107 Croton avenue at eight o'clock.

First Baptist Church

The Gleaners class of the First Baptist church, taught by Mrs. Paul Weller, will have their annual Christmas party in the church parlors, Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"
Just Rub Away Danger

That cold may turn into "Flue," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rub Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief as effectively as the messy old mustard plaster.

Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

AMERICA'S AMAZING RECORD OF GENEROSITY

IT IS not surprising to learn that the year 1928 surpassed all that have gone before in the matter of gifts and bequests to colleges and charitable institutions of various kinds. A survey which has been made shows that the amazing total is not less than $2,330,000,000 reports the Philadelphia Inquirer. There has been nothing like it before in the world's history.

The lavishness with which Americans distribute their wealth to good causes is attested by the fact that nearly 500 lump sums to one million dollars or more went to various philanthropies. During the year $60,000,000 were distributed to libraries, hospitals and charities from the Payne Whitney estate. The Rockefeller donations totaled $30,000,000. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., agreed to give between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 to restore the historic town of Williamsburg, Virginia.

Scores of successful business men have given fortunes to the universities from which they have graduated. Others have generously endowed homes for the poor and the aged. Merely to give a list of the very big donations of the year would require a column of space. There have been many thousands of other gifts which would have been considered princely a generation ago, but which now attract only casual attention. Most of these have been carefully considered by the donors. They are not scattered at random, but distributed with a view of obtaining the best possible results. The American business man carries his ideas of efficiency even into his charities. In addition to all of these individual offerings we have had the annual community drives for the poor along the lines of our Welfare Federation, which give the humblest the opportunity of joining in the good work.

The moral of all this cannot be too strongly emphasized. It is that the most prosperous people in the world are also the most generous. We work, and we work hard, not for money itself, but for the good that may be done with it.

We have been accused by some misanthropes of being a nation of money-grabbers, but back of our industry are the joy of achievement and the satisfaction of accomplishment.

THE HITCH-HIKER

HITCH-HIKING has become so common that the average motorist, even if he is taking only a short trip, is almost certain to be hailed several times and asked for a ride. If he hurries on, he is often followed by imprecations.

Unfortunately, if the motorist is soft-hearted and gives the stranger free passage he may find that he has picked up trouble. If he has an accident and his self-invited passenger is injured, he may be sued for damages. If he is no more lucky than a number whose adventures have been reported, he may find that he is entertaining a bandit during the latter's working hours.

There are thousands of men who tour, or commute, and neither buy gasoline nor pay railroad fare. If these were to pay their way, either the railroads or the automobile industry, or both, would prosper. And not all of them beg transportation by necessity.

Most car owners are reluctant to see hitch-hiking outlawed because of the opportunities it offers school boys to see their country, but the practice has long since attained the proportions of a public nuisance. Many municipalities are curbing it, but beyond their corporate limits the vagabond, modern style, is at liberty to jerk his thumb off without molestation.

HEROES OF TODAY

THE education of a boy is not merely a matter of schooling and discipline. The boy himself does more than his teachers to lay the deeper foundations of his life in the hours he spends with his heroes, who teach him ideals and ambitions and write their message deep in his heart. These heroes, mythical and shadowy though they be, have power over him and gain his love and confidence, and the bent and fiber of his character will inevitably reflect their inspiration.

It used to be that knights of old or spectacular heroes of pioneer days were the boon companions of the youthful spirit. But the daily newspaper in every household has wrought its miracle even with the boy. His heroes today are on the front pages of the paper; they are athletes, soldiers and sailors, aviators and explorers, and men everywhere who give their strength or hazard their lives in some deed of unselfishness and sacrifice.

Boy nature demands heroes, and the boy's heroes today are of his own generation and very much alive in the world with him. He may see them, hear their voices and follow their story from day to day. The picture of Lindbergh hangs on the wall of countless boys' bedrooms; they can read the book he has written and catch a glimpse of him as he rides his swift steed above the cities of America. The wise parent and teacher will encourage such hero worship, so that the torch of high empire may one day pass to hands that are ready for it.

A girl may be proud of her ability as a cook, but she does not want to be admired for that alone.

In some respects the breed is improving: Not so many of the younger element this winter are pasting their hair into position.

The Millennium morning will be celebrated by a collision between a truck and a small car, following which the truck driver will get out and remark, "Dear, dear, how careless! Do you suppose if I gave you $11 you could get that radiator fixed?"

BOY WITH HALF-PANT LOST

Following the disappearance of their son, parents in Calcutta recently inserted the following advertisement in a local newspaper: "A boy of fair complexion, dumb, having a half-pant and banion on—is missing from the evening of Tuesday last. His parents will be grateful if any one can give information about him at 210-3-2 Cornwalls street."

Grand Year in the Street.
The King's Blood Soldiers.
To Live Long, Eat Little.
A Farewell Lynching.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Wall street closed the old year joyously, with stocks "climbing to many new high prices for all time," everybody happy except professional bears. They have learned that being a bear in this country is "not a business." It's a disaster.

Figures tell what kind of year "the Street" has had. The public bought more than 920,000,000 shares, including steel, 19,809,000 shares; radio, 16,179,000 shares; General Motors, 43,880,400 shares.

Henry Ford's new British company, just born, sold in America alone 2,488,400 shares, almost the total issue. The plan to let the Britons have and keep that stock did not work.

Brokers that sold Stock Exchange seats made a profit of $30,000,000, in some cases getting 10 times what the seats cost. But all sold too soon. If you own a good thing in America keep it and it will keep you.

The year closed with money lending at 12 per cent, so even the hard-working banker shared the joy, knowing that his little golden soldiers were earning their keep.

For the "haves", as Victor Berger calls them, otherwise the prosperous, it was a good year. For the "have nots" it was not as bad as usual. They must find comfort in the fact that the "haves" once were "have nots". They seized opportunity, and opportunity still exists.

Those that got money gambling, in stocks and otherwise, are only temporary possessors—they will not keep it.

This column, about once a year during the past two years, has predicted that values would go up. Note that increase in stock prices during 1928 amounts to $11,385,000,000, greatest gain in the nation's history. And many things are still cheap.

More important is the fact noted by Mr. Ecker, of the Metropolitan Life Company, that wages amount to 60 billions a year, cost of living to only 40 billions, leaving 20 billions every year for savings, automobiles, radios and other necessities that once were luxuries.

King George's condition worries his doctors, puzzled by his "great fatigue".

The king's blood is tired after months of fighting against poisonous streptococci.

His blood has lost what military commanders call its fighting morale.

After a long campaign a tired army needs fresh soldiers. The king's blood needs vigorous, fresh leucocytes and could get them by transfusion.

That so important a step should be so long delayed is surprising. The king's physicians might well hesitate to experiment with so illustrious a patient. But blood transfusion is no longer an experiment, but a scientific remedy for blood stream infection.

Reasonable expectation of life is now limited to 55 years for the average. Formerly, when open sewers ran through streets, with graveyards on hillsides draining into wells below, life averaged less than 20 years. Science says we already have sufficient medical knowledge to make life's expectation 12 years longer, but we don't use what we know.

The big problem is extending life for men and women past 50. Barring cancer and other troubles, not understood, prolonging life is not complicated. Eat, sleep, exercise and breathe properly, and living to 90 will not be difficult.

Eating is especially important. We are what we eat.

Luigi Cornaro proved it when, at 40 years of age, doctors told him his case was hopeless.

He cut his diet 12 ounces of solid food, with 15 ounces of light wine a day, wrote an interesting book when past 90, lived past 100 and wrote to the Archbishop of Venice, "I mount my horse without difficulty and had to live past 90 to realize that the world is beautiful."

He made his wife live as he lived and she passed 100. Francis Bacon supplies interesting details of Cornaro's life, as do other ancient writers.

One feature of the old year's last day was not pleasant. A negro was burned alive at Lombardy, a little village in Mississippi.

If it be possible for a half-developed human creature to deserve such a death, he deserved it. He had murdered the father of a girl whom he outraged and confessed his guilt.

No matter what the negro deserved, the fine state of Mississippi did not deserve such an ending to 1928.

As a whole, 1928 has been a good year, even for lynchings, the total number being lowest in many years.

Remarkable is the courage of Miss Laura Mae Keeler, a young white woman, who captured the negro murderer singlehanded. He was hiding in a cabin with a loaded rifle.

Miss Keeler, unarmed, went to him, told him, "The farmers will surely get you and kill you," and persauded him to give himself up. She started for the Parchman prison, but her prisoner was taken from her by farmers patrolling the road, and burned on wood soaked in gasoline.

Renewing a promise to pay is like a woman's saying: "I promised to remain chaste and didn't, but now I will make it right by promising again."

Producers making "talkies" in 28 languages will understand why the builders finally gave up and quit the Tower of Babel.

A German philosopher told us "Birds mit one fedder flock by deself."

Some people think the bird with a wife who has money is lucky. Maybe he is.

Things could be worse than they are in this country. In Italy the big man there, Mussilino pours a quart or so of castor oil into the system of any of the brethern who get unruly and nasty. That would be great for some dissatisfied ones in this country.

A hick town is a place where a light after 10 p. m. means sickness or a marriageable daughter.

And then there are those who are satisfied with fourth or fifth handed cars.

We have never made a New Year resolution. We think the Boy Scout plan of trying to do a good turn every day in the year is about the best and then, of course, there is the Golden Rule. Can't beat either.

Time is a gypsy
Who wanders away.
Tears or a handcuff
Cannot make him stay.

Guest for a minute,
The clock goes tick, tick;
Lo he has vanished—

Nothing can stop him,
No matter how coy;
He goes the fastest
When taking our joy.

When we are lazy
Gold moments he steals,
He even ignores
Our working appeals.

It is not fitting
That I should be
A slave to a master
So heartlessly free.

Recently when the $25,000 prize was awarded for the best method to enforce the Volstead Act, many suggestions other than the prize winner were made. Some advocated for liquor drinkers and sellers hanging by the tongue to airplanes, electrocution, doses of castor oil, exile to St. Helena, distribute poisoned likker through bootleggers to kill off scofflaws, six months of hard labor for each pint of liquor possessed by a tippler, giving policemen sentences of 30 years when they fail to report speakeasies, erecting a high wall around any man found drinkikng. That one being hung by the tongue to an airplane and carried over the United States was a prime one. Most of the suggestions along these lines were made by women. No doubt if these things were done there would be less likker licked up.

A scientist says 45 or 50 years is enough to live. A lot of folks who read that will think that is too long for some scientists to live.

While it is said to be true that old Rip Van Winkle slept 20 years, it is also true that he was awake when he woke up.

It is claimed that the killing of 25,000 does during the past hunting season is a mere handful compared to the number still left. As far as we are concerned we are not interested in any kind of doe or buck meat and would rather have tripe and liver. These deer destroy many times their weight in farm products every year and then a lot of farmers got shot because they look like groundhogs.

We have heard a lot of birds complain because they were in jail. They forgot to remember that they were not sent for, but were brought in by force in many instances.

IF YOU HAVE BEEN CROOKED BEFORE, IT'S TEN TO ONE YOU'RE CROOKED THIS TIME

Your reputation is a piece of proerty with an actual cash value.

Soon or late there will come a time when your honesty will be questioned by somebody who does not know your reputation. Perhaps you will face a jury. At any rate you will stand before the community to be judged as to your innocense or guilt.

That's where your reputation shows it's value—or lack of value.

If for years you have paid your debts, kept your word and defrauded nobody, the community will say: "There is some mistake about this: He hasn't done anything dishonest. We have known him for years, and we know he's square."

Your reputation is more eloquent than any evidence against you.

But if you have been known to love a nickel too much; if you have been untrue to your marriage vows; if you have defrauded widows and cheated Negroes and shown yourself to be without standards of honor, the community says: "Of course he's guilty. It's just like him. He's a crook and doesn't know what honor is."

And the community will say it whether he is guilty or not.

If you think a man is trying to "crook" you, and have no way of discovering the truth, you look up his record. If you find he has cheated others, you say to yourself: "I'd like to give him the benefit of the doubt, but there can't be any doubt. He cheated others, and of course he would cheat me if he could. He's a crook."

That's what you say, and usually you are right.

Keep your reputation shined up, brother. You'll need it some day as sure as gun is iron.

THE BATTLE

I met her with a mop and pail,
A little woman, tired and frail.
Cleaning the office hall,
A woman people hurried by
Without the turning of an eye
Or thinking of at all.

A woman scrubbing, day by day,
The tracks of muddy feet away
Upon her bended knees;
The sort of woman, tired and worn,
In dreary garments and forlorn
That no one ever sees.

Perhaps 'twas something in her glance,
Or else 'twas merely happy chance
I questioned her today.
"Why do you hum that song of joy?"
Said she: "I have a little boy,
Much good of them they say.

"He studies hard. His teachers tell
That he is doing very well.
A loving lad is he.
And while I mop away this pool
I think about my boy in school
And what some day he'll be."

Oh, weary woman on the floor,
A little boy I'm working for.
And when our boys shall grow,
You may succeed with mop and pail
Where I with luxuries may fail—
But that we cannot know.

Doom Of Old Waldorf-Astoria Seems To Mark Passing Of Era

Famous New York Hotel, Crowded Out By Skyscrapers, Played Important Part In Life Of Passing Generation

To the present and passing generation there is something more than the tearing down of an old hotel in the doom that has been decreed for the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York.

"Last stand of a decade that had a charm as individual as that of the Elizabethan Age, hail and farewell!" exclaims the NEWARK EVENING News.  "The incredible rise in land values in New York is exemplified in the fact that such an enormous structure, still operative and profitable, can be thus ruthlessly sacrificed to commercial uses in the form of just another Tower of Babel on a small island already equipped with them in amazing numbers. That it will 'pay' to sweep into oblivion such a monster of bricks and mortar is in itself a world wonder."

"In the changes of 35 years the Waldorf-Astoria has played no small part," recalls the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette. "Business deals of magnitude were discussed in its atmosphere; the political well being of the country and of states have been affected by decisions made under its roof. Every day at the Waldorf was filled with interest, the new rubbing shoulders with the old, bon vivants settling the fate of the chef's latest product, fashion turning thumbs down or up on the latest fad, the stars of the operatic and theatrical worlds basking in the view of the casual, society on display toward Fifth avenue and men alone enjoying the mysteries of the end toward Astor court."

"During the most of its 35 years it stood for romance and elegance—a hostelry swarming with beautiful women and with the wealthy and powerful of both sexes," states the NEW YORK EVENING WORLD.  for years the social status of residents of the smaller towns throughout the United States could be a little advanced by stopping at the Waldorf when visiting the city." That paper adds: "It is always a little sad to hear of the passing of an old hotel that has taken on the dignity of an institution. It has been lived in. It is associated with people, usually in their most joyous moods. It is connected with great events and great personages. Thus, when the old Fifth Avenue Hotel passed there was real sorrow of the pensive sort. So it is with the Waldorf."

"There is something peculiarly melancholy," the SYRACUSE HERALD thinks, "in the death sentence passed upon a building which, barely a generation ago, appeared to be the very summation of elegance and luxury as a house of entertainment. It has been outstripped by greater hotels in the same marvelous city, but none of them has made so vivid an impression upon the minds of observers by its superiority over pre-existing models."

"Gaudiness was mistaken for grandeur in the period when the Waldorf-Astoria was built," comments the LOUISVILLE TIMES, which remarks, however, that "not since the Waldorf opened has anyone builded a hotel that has won friends more widely, or held them more securely."

"What a center of metropolitan life—what a name to fascinate every traveler from China to Peru!" observes the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, with the suggestion as to the New York attitude toward the death of a famous house: "Probably New York as an entity will have no regrets over the disappearance of the Waldorf-Astoria. The Brobdignagian idea is dearer to New Yorkers than any landmark of the past. But some of us outsiders, and perhaps even some old New Yorkers, will experience a sensation of real regret. There are hundreds of skyscrapers, but there was never but one Waldorf-Astoria. Its 'splendors' were surpassed, but its personality survived."

Of the Waldorf's history the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS recalls: "The structure claims to have housed a greater number of world leaders than any other in America. There came the Princess of Eulalia of Spain, the Crown Prince of Siam, and the famous Chinese viceroy, Li Hung Chang. There were entertained Prince Henry of Prussia, the King and Queen of Belgium, and the Prince of Wales."

Going back to the period of the '90's, the BALTIMORE EVENING SUN finds that "in 35 years we have builded a new world," and gives the description of the old home of American social life: "The Waldorf-Astoria, in those dim, far-off days, was the peak of our effort. Its fame was nation-wide. Its 'Peacock Alley' was regarded as the most brillant product of a complete civilization. The grandeurs of that hallway had their echoes in nearly every city in the land."

Its influence is set forth in the following words by the SAVANNAH PRESS: "Its 'Peacock Alley' has been known for many years as the place where fashion disports itself, and prominence is aired. Millions of dollars have been taken over its counters. The bon-ton sought its shelter, always inconsolable, when its rooms were crowded, and when it was turned away. If the high flyers couldn't get in at the Waldorf, they felt themselves affronted."

"In its generation," according to the NEW YORK SUN, "the whole business and social face of Manhattan changed. The leisurely days of hansoms and tallyhos gave way to the rush of subways and motor cars. Hotels were abandoned as the centers of political, financial and sport discussions."

"One thought of the hotel," states the INDIANAPOLIS NEWS, "as a fixture, endowed with permanence that attaches, say, to the pyramids. A foolish notion this, of course, but one which was firmly fixed in many minds." But the BANGOR COMMERCIAL observes that "modern New York cannot spare space in its business section for the reception rooms, dining halls and wide spaces of a modern hotel."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HOW IT IS DONE.

Mr. Hoover has been traveling very much a-la Prince of Wales. The Prince has been known for years as the "Great English Drummer."—the Traveling Man for the House of Great Britain. He too travels upon a war ship and is greeted with salvos of artillery and great banquets attended by the Great of the Earth in Gold Lace.

The South American Republics have been impressed with all this and one of them, Argentina, officially asked the Department of State whether Hoover was about to visit Argentina as a private citizen or as an official representative. The Department explained that it had no information as to what President Coolidge had arranged with Mr. Hoover!

It was volunteered by the State Department that Mr. Hoover was traveling on a Good Will Mission and that every country was giving Mr. Hoover a status above that of an average citizen and that on American battleships he would receive the same salute that would be extended to an ex-President.

The Department also gave out that several Presidents-elect of Southern Republics had visited the United States on previous occasions, among them, President Machado, of Cuba, and the Presidents of Brazil, of Haiti, of Venezuela, and of Colombia.

The United States may not give to citizens inheritable titles, but it can put on the High Hat as well as any other Principality or Power and do the thing right Royally.

First Aid Scout Winners Will Get Beautiful Plaque

Robert J. Tully Donates Plaque Trophy To Be Given Scout Winners

A mahogany and bronze plaque will be the award made to the winning Boy Scout troop in Lawrence county at the first aid meet which will take place March 1. The plaque is the gift of Robert J. Tully, superintendent of the local Carnegie Steel Company, and will be known by the Scouts as the R. J. Tully trophy, states J. Lee Calahan, Scout executive.

It is the plan of the Scout leaders to sponsor a county wide first aid meet. The winning troop will receive the beautiful trophy plaque with their name and date being inscribed.

This troop will be eligible to compete in the inter-county first aid meet and should they win this they will compete for state honors. The contest will be a yearly affair. Should a troop win the plaque three years in succession it will become their permanent possession.

The plaque given by Mr. Tully will be on display in one of the local store windows in the near future in order that all Scouts, as well as others, may see it.

Drunken Driver Fined By Mayor

Vehicle Proves To Be "Horseless Carriage" Being A Wagon Drawn By Mule

There was considerable interest at the police station last night when it was announced that another drunken driver had been arrested. In fact when the man in the case, who gave the name of Arthur Hetrick, was brought in, his condition was such that the officers and others had visions of his spending a short time at least in the county jail.

But here are the facts. The vehicle which he was driving at the time of his arrest was a wagon and the means of locomotion was a mule. The result was that he paid a fine of $5 when he appeared before Mayor William H. Gillespie.

And here's the story.

Officer McMullen called the police station stating that he had a man at the eighth ward fire department building and asked that the police car be sent to bring him in.

It seems that Hetrick had an argument over some coal with a colored woman named Mrs. Martha Smith of 10½ West Home street.

She informed the officer that she had given Hetrick $1.50 to bring her some coal. He brought the coal all right but after unloading a few lumps drove away with the rest of the coal.

Mrs. Smith gave chase and at the corner of Scioto and Reynolds streets attracted the attention of the officer and told him her story. The officer took charge of Hetrick.

Hetrick agreed to deliver the coal but got lost enroute to her home and was taken because of his condition, by the officer to the eighth ward fire department and then to jail. Some boys delivered and unloaded the coal.

The mule and wagon were placed in the Louis Shear barn on Scioto street, until Hetrick was able to reclaim it.

NO EXTENSION CAN BE GIVEN ON AUTO TAGS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—Local police officials are without authority to grant extension for the use of 1928 automobile license tags, Benjamin G. Eynon, registrar of motor vehicles, said today. Such action is direct opposition to the motor vehicle code, he said.

All stations of the Highway Motor patrol have been instructed to arrest anyone operating a car with 1928 tags.

PENN-OHIO SYSTEM WILL SPEND MILLION IN LOCAL DISTRICT

provements will be the completion of the work at the Toronto power generating station itself. In 1928 the fourth turbo-generator was installed and placed in service, bringing the capacity of the plant to 150,000 kva. or approximately 170,000 horsepower required to meet the steadily growing demand for electric power from the P.-O. lines in industries throughout the Mahoning and Shenango valleys.

Three quarters of a million dollars will be expended at Toronto in 1929 for the installation of additional boilers and auxiliary equipment for the new generator.

Another major improvement will be the building of a power transmission line from the Salt Springs substation, Youngstown, to Masury where a new 37,500 kva. substation will be built. This improvement will permit of transmission of power to the Sharon district directly from Toronto just as the line built last year gave this important improvement in service to the New Castle and Ellwood City districts.

CANADA DESIRES LARGER PORTION OF RADIO WAVES

there may be duplication of stations, and with regard to the channels reserved for exclusive use would determine the number to be assigned to each country.

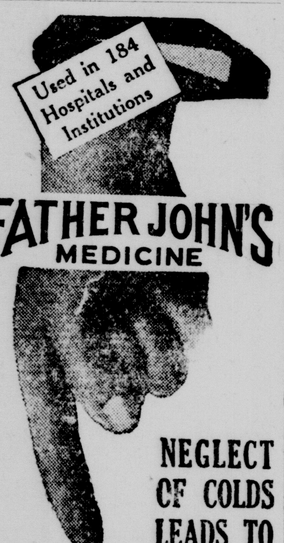

Difference of opinion exists as to the use to which the short wave channels should be put. It is expected that Mexico would stand with Canada in insisting that the high frequency channels be reserved for use in areas where the cost of putting up wire lines is prohibitive. In the wastes of Northern Canada, the lumber, fur and other industries are in great need of radio facilities.

In this country radio is coming into direct competition with the wire communication lines.

MRS. MARY JOSEPH IS HELD FOR COURT

Following a hearing held this morning before Alderman, Walter T. Hamilton, Mrs. Mary Joseph, 1115 Scioto street, was held for the December term of court on a charge of violating the Snyder act, made by Constable John Miller of the Fifth ward. She gave bail in the sum of $1,500 for her appearance at the March term of court.

What a happy grin! It's none other than Christian Keener (Red) Cagle, All-American halfback and the new captain of Army's football team, with Miss Marion Haile, of New Roads, La., his boyhood sweetheart. Cagle says he'll wed Miss Haile upon graduation from West Point. The photo was snapped while the young cadet visited friends in New Orleans over the holidays.

June, because the war department has just sent out a warning. Captain Melvin L. Craig who is in charge of the reserve officers work in the New Castle district does not expect to be transferred but he says as he shivers over a chilly radiator, it would be nice to be in Hawaii, wouldn't it? The only trouble is that the captain has been stationed in Hawaii.

Many of the tickets to the policemen's ball evidently were sold on the installment basis and the money is fairly safe too for no one would have the nerve to try and gyp a copper. Sergeant Dave Nelson at the present time is trying to round up the delinquents who "would pay for mine later." So it is time to ante in or feed the kitty.

The Lawrence County Tuberculosis society, Pa Newc is informed by reliable authorities is about to get a new executive secretary. Ever since the resignation of Miss Anna Gilliland as secretary of the Associated Charities, Miss Della A. Glenn has been filling both positions but the work is too much for one woman. The Tuberculosis society secretary will be announced in the near future.

One reason why the people of New Castle—and especially the burghers—will have to help with the schoolmen's convention which will come to New Castle next December is shown by a prominent hotel man of the city. About 5,000 delegates will come to the convention and there are not more than 500 hotel rooms in New Castle. So judge for yourself.

The Christmas season hotel slump is just about worn off and commercial names again are appearing on the hotel registers. Pa Newc, it seems, was quite wrong in assuming that there are quite a few traveling men on the road at New Year's. Most of them seem always to head for home every time there is a holiday, say hotel managers, albeit there are a few who are stuck here and there.

Wednesday afternoon the Christmas tree on the public square was still up—and lighted. Pa Newc wonders if this will be like last year; he wonders if it will be almost a month before the tree is finally taken down and hauled away. After the season is over there is nothing looks more disconsolate than an old Christmas tree.

Pa Newc learned that a transcontinental stage stops in New Castle every morning. And being curious he learned some of the prices for rides finding them rather cheap. In case you would want to go to Los Angeles, for instance, the tax would be something like $55. But then who would want to go there especially when he has such perfect weather as is being experienced in New Castle.

Roy Balard room clerk at the Fountain Inn, has among his souvenirs a priceless antique in the way of mens' furnishings. It is a pair of authentic ear muffs bought some 15 years ago and to be worn with a derby. Yes, Mr. Ballard confesses to wearing the muffs on very cold mornings but when he does so he says he always travels the alleys.

Just now the most popular place for the boys who loaf and the boys who work at the Central Fire station on South Jefferson street is the furnace room where it is always warm. For, even since the stairways have been partitioned off it is a hard thing to keep the station comfortable. And now the boys as a little gift you know would not mind having a telephone near the furnace.

Did you notice how figures have swelled at the public library during the past year? Almost half of the circulation over the former year. Furthermore figures at the library are showing that the children are reading less of the poor fiction than the adults.

Conditions at the New Castle postoffice have once more returned to normal. Those clerks and carriers who were off duty during the Christmas holidays because of the flu have again returned, with the exception of one or two. At one time during the Christmas rush the local office was in dire need of experienced help. It wasn't found, but nevertheless the substitutes drafted for the emergency did their best, and the mails were dispatched in an almost regular manner. Now most of the regulars are back.

School bells tingled this morning after a silence of almost two weeks. Work for the new year got under way with speed. The first semester of school will end sometime in January. No more scheduled vacations till Easter.

It was heard in a local book store. The young man had ordered a book, but for the life or him, he could not remember the title. "Anyway," he hedged despairingly, "the thing was by Frank Kent." Finally he got it.

With the little blonde masochist, Pa Newc went into a local drug store Wednesday evening and there, to his amazement, while a light snow was blowing outside, the l. b. m. calmly ordered an Eskimo sundae and just as calmly devoured it to the last lick of stickiness. Strange people, these Chinese! On the streets they yell about the cold and then, given a chance, they eat something quite as cold as the streets themselves.

Pa Newc had a little talk with an egg man the other day and he declared that the biddies were getting down to work and eggs were more plentiful. Perhaps they made a New Year's resolution. The price is dropping also.

Pa Newc observed only one pair of chains on the streets yesterday evening. Shortly after the snow in the afternoon, the streets grew slippery but it did not seem to bring out the chains.

Have you noticed the Christmas ties? Loud, long green, red and pink ones which all the men are wearing. In a month or so the coloration of the neck pieces will probably tone down. As the saying is, you can tell a Christmas tie a mile away.

Don't forget that little suggestion from the Boy Scouts concerning the removal of old Christmas trees. This is but another of the things that Boy Scouts are doing. They come in handy at football games or when a baby is lost. The Boy Scout good turn idea has helped more people than one has any idea.

Westminster started this morning with a bang. The little college got a little extra time off for sickness. Reports indicate that the majority of the students are back safe and sound. The public school in the college town is not opening until Monday.

Senator Gives His Explanation

Refutes Assertion Of Newspaper That He Dozed Off At Harrisburg

In a humorous article appearing in the Wednesday edition of the Philadelphia Inquirer, it is charged that ten senators of the Pennsylvania General Assembly slept during the delivering of the message of Governor John S. Fisher, among them Senator George T. Weingartner of this district.

When the article in question was brought to the attention of Senator Weingartner he received it in the same spirit that it was written.

"Ridiculous, of course" he said. "I don't believe any of the senators slept during Governor Fisher's message, but if they did close their eyes, it was not in sleep but merely an attempt to dodge the reflection of the lights from the gilted ceiling. They have the ceiling decorations polished so highly that the light reflection hits you in the eye like a headlight on an automobile."

St. Mary's School To Reopen Monday

Opening Of School After Christmas Delayed On Account Of Sickness

St. Mary's Parochial school will not reopen until Monday, January 7, it was announced today at the parish house.

The determination to keep the school closed until that time was due to the prevalence of flu and kindreds sinckness among the pupils and also the adult members of the parish.

It is hoped by this delay of several days in reopening the school, that much of the sickness will then have passed and that the attendance will be better than if school had resumed this week.

STEAM SHOVEL IS FIRE ALARM CAUSE

Steam shovel of Smith & McQuiston being operated in the rear of the P. & O. power house on West Washington street, was the cause of a fire alarm today.

Oil gauge of the big machine boiled over in some manner and the oil ignited causing a considerable blaze. The firemen were called at 11:55 a. m., by an alarm from box 61. The loss was slight.

Plan For Meeting Of City Teachers

Preliminary Steps Will Be Taken Towards Organization For Convention

Principals of the city will meet this afternoon with Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of school, for the purpose of arranging for a general teachers' meeting on Tuesday evening, January 8, in the George Washington Junior High school.

At this meeting it is expected that preliminary steps will be taken towards the organization of a committee to handle the arrangements for the convention of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association which will meet here in December, 1929.

Perfect health is refreshing

If you are tired—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S. Its tonic effects will surprise you.

WHEN your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, lanquid feeling when you awake in the morning.

Instead, you feel refreshed; ready to meet the world!

Your appetite is keen, you enjoy work or play. Your skin is clear—cheeks naturally rosy.

All this because rich, red blood is Nature's substance for building and sustaining the body.

Thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking a few bottles of S.S.S.—Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—thru the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. I took a course of S.S.S. It cleared my face and back. I think S.S.S. is wonderful. I have told many friends about S.S.S., and they are getting as much benefit as I did."

Circulation At Library Grows

New Castle Library Has Record Year For Circulation; 49 Per Cent Gain

Branch Libraries Swell Book Circulation Totals Nearly Half In Year

Circulation of books at the New Castle public library during the year 1928 had an increase in circulation of 56.161 over the year 1927 or an increase of 49 per cent, as listed in the report of the year by Alice M. Sterling, city librarian.

In the past year, the circulation figures were 171,184 which may be compared with the totals of the previous year, 1927, of 115,023.

During the month of December just past, the circulation over the same month in 1927 was 40 per cent or 4,596. During the December month of 1927, circulation figures totalled 11,406 while during the month just passed, this number was swelled to some 16,000.

The reason for the great increase in circulation at the New Castle library is apparently the establishment of branch libraries.

Since the founding of new libraries, circulation has soared while the book borrowing at the main library actually diminished to a small degree.

Evidently, people will read if they have the books placed conveniently at their disposal. The main library has a branch in the seventh ward, one on the south side, a hospital branch in the Shenango Valley hospital and will soon have another branch which will be located on the east side. All of these branches are in charge of members of the staff of the main library on North Jefferson street and are open part time.

Veterans' Bureau To Re-Check Dependency Standing Of Parents

Will Also Conduct "Follow-Up" On Ex-Service Men Who Get Compensation

Under the amendment of May 29, 1928 to the World War Veterans' act, it is necessary for dependent parents to re-establish the status of dependency before the veterans' bureau as of the first day of each calendar year hereafter, according to a notice contained in the current magazine of the American Red Cross.

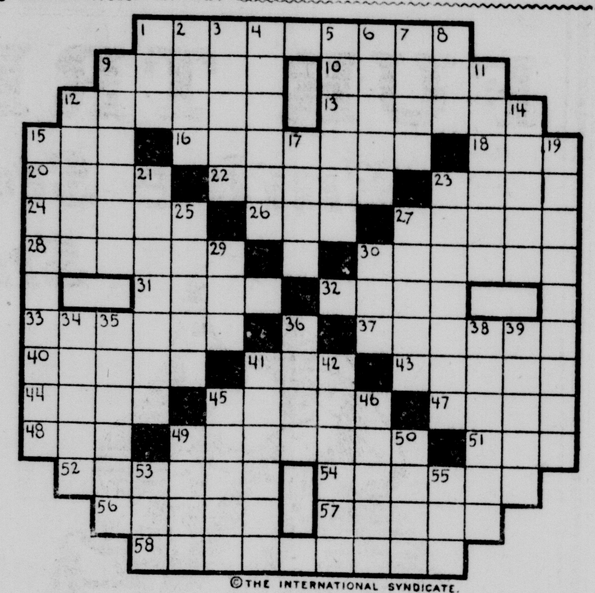

"The veterans' bureau has also established a periodic follow-up at yearly intervals on veterans drawing disability compensation, to determine whether the veteran and his wife are living together, whether the children are in his custody, or whether the wife and children are still living.

"This follow-up will be made on each successive anniversary of the approval of either the first award granting increased compensation on account of dependents, or an apportioned award based on a permanent rating.

"The veterans' bureau has prepared form 681 for presenting evidence concerning the dependency of the parents, and form 680, an affidavit to determine the marital status of veteran; existence of wife and the existence of custody of children. These forms will not be distributed in bulk, but will be sent to the claimant in ample time to be sent out and returned to the bureau on the required date.

Pan J. Dempsey, executive secretary of chapter, states that this matter is of importance to New Castle residents who are dependents.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

LITTLE "MR. RED RIDING HOOD"

"I don't suppose that you have ever been hunted and had to run for your life!"

Carrier Pigeon stopped short in his story and gazed inquiringly at the boy. Peter shook his head.

"No, thank goodness, I never have," said he. "What in the world I should ever do I don't know. Why when I am frightened I can't move.

"Once when I was a little boy I ran away and stayed in the woods until it was dark. And on my way home I saw a great big woolly thing and thought it was a wolf. My, how my heart did beat! How I wished I was home! I tried to run but my feet acted just as if they were glued to the ground.

"The dark thing crept nearer and nearer. I opened my mouth to scream for help, but something had happened to my voice and not a sound came.

"By and by the great black thing was so close to me that I felt his breath upon my cheek. Now I am going to be eaten up just like Red Riding Hood's grandma, thought I, but still I couldn't move a leg.

"Then a wet tongue licked my face and 'woof,' 'woof' barked a voice right at my ear. It was only Jack, a neighbor's dog, and the best hearted dog in the world—as gentle as a kitten. I had my fright for nothing, but I never ran away again. And even though it all turned out all right and Jack followed me to the kitchen door I was happier to get home that night than ever I had been in my life before."

Carrier Pigeon listened to the boy and then at his last word he chuckled.

"After an adveuture like that you have some idea of how I felt when below me in the distance I first saw the tops of the houses in which I knew our troops were quartered. I was not the only one who was glad though. Almost as soon as I came into view a soldier caught sight of me. I heard him say afterward that he had looked through those blamed glasses so long that his eyes were almost popping out of his head and he had to shut and open them again before he could be sure it was I. He must have told the others, for one after another the soldiers ran to greet me.

"When I arrived even the general himself, was there. I was so tired that all I wanted to do was to get the message to him and go to sleep. And without really thinking of what I was doing I alighted on the great general's shoulder.

Asks That Credit Blanks Be Mailed

Ray Hall, Credit Manager Here, Asks That Merchants Fill In Survey Blanks

All merchants of the county who have received the National Credit Survey special blanks are asked by Ray Hall, manager of the local credit exchange, to fill in the desired information and return.

Mr. Hall was appointed key man for this district in a nation wide survey by the government and credit organizations.

The survey is attempting to determine the average of conditions in the country at large and also to find some one plane which is hoped will benefit the most merchants throughout the country.

Blanks have been mailed to merchants, and if they have failed to return them as yet, Mr. Hall is making a personal request that they do so immediately.

Send Blanks Now For State Show Says McCulloch

Lawrence County Farmers Should Enter Blanks Now For Produce Show

Lawrence county farmers planning to enter fruit as well as other products in the state products farm show should mail entry blanks immediately to J. M. Fry, secretary, at State College, Pa., states county agent Harold McCulloch.

A special prize this year, states the county agent, is being given for commercial stock in storage. There will also be prizes given for apples in plates, trays, baskets and various other displays.

Local farmers should get their permits at once if they desire to exhibit corn. This is necessary due to the corn borer quarantine area in which Lawrence county is included.

FLU is now Epidemic!

Compared with 1918, this epidemic, so far, is mild; and yet, in spite of vastly increased capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating night and day to meet the emergency demand for more and more Vicks VapoRub. Over 432,000 jars are now being produced daily.

How best to use Vicks VapoRub

1. AS A PREVENTIVE

Several times a day, insert Vicks up the nostrils. Also melt a little night and morning in a bowl of boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors. This helps to ward off Germ-infection.

2. IF A COLD STARTS

If possible, go home and go to bed. Take a laxative and a hot lemonade. Apply hot, wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is throughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel. Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-warmth, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks also acts through the skin like a poultice. Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body throw off the cold more quickly.

3. AFTER A FLU ATTACK

Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is after influenza. Then, more than ever, colds, attacking the weakened system, may lead to bronchitis, sinus-trouble or pneumonia. This is especially true of children or old folks. Heed even the slightest cold as a danger signal. Vicks is especially valuable here, because it is applied externally, and so can be used freely, as often as needed, without upsetting delicate digestions, as too much "dosing" is so apt to do.

Lancaster Plans Vote On $5,000,000 Loans

Greater Water Supply And Sewage Disposal Plans Call For Heavy Expense

LANCASTER, Jan. 3. — Voters in Lancaster will next spring, it is expected, be called upon to accept or reject bond issues totaling $5,000,000 for two major public improvements. One is the adequate water supply system programme, which has been approved by the state department of health, the other sewage disposal, plans for which were approved several months ago by state officials. Each project, it is estimated, will cost about $2,500,000.

City Council, at the weekly meeting tomorrow, will receive the report of the department of health relative on indorsement of plans for the water supply system.

It has not been decided if both loans will be presented to the voters at the same time or offered separately. If the latter plan is followed, it was indicated the water supply loan would receive preference.

In commenting on the water situation, Mayor Musser said: "Our water supply is absolutely pure, but the supply is limited. We are working on a very narrow margin of safety. A minor breakdown at the pumping station might mean Lancaster would be without water within a period of two hours."

Our personal statistician reports that if all the gloves and house slippers given for Christmas boxes were laid end to end they would make a derned long line of things that didn't fit.—The Hamilton, Ont., Spectator.

Make Progress On New Building

Business Block Going Up In New Wilmington; News Of Town

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 3.—Progress on the new department store building being put up here is evidenced by the fact that workmen are now busy erecting the brick walls of the new structure. All the foundation work has now been completed.

The back wall, which is to be made fireproof because of its proximity to the lumber company, is the furtherest along in the work.

The funeral services for the late Mrs. Elizabeth Burnside Eckles were held this afternoon at two o'clock at the home of J. C. Eckles on High street. The Rev. V. L. Bloomquist and the Rev. J. Ralph Neale conducted the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Houston left for Philadelphia after spending the Christmas vacation here. Mr. Houston is a senior at Jefferson Medical School.

A steady influx of Westminster College students livened up the town yesterday, when they defied the cold weather and congregated on the main street.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

Hard, Large Pimples on Hands and Face, Healed by Cuticura.

"The pimples I had on my face and hands were hard, large and red, and scaled over. The burning and itching made me scratch, which caused eruptions. The irritation prevented me from sleeping, and the breaking out caused disfigurement. The trouble lasted about two months.

"I tried different remedies but not one of them helped me. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and could see an improvement, and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Stella R. Argentine Refuses Conciliation Post In Territory Row

Another Neutral South American Country Will Not Be Selected For Commission

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Argentina's refusal to accept membership on the Bolivian-Paraguayan conciliation commission, while regretted in Washington, will not materially delay matters, it was said here today. The conciliation protocol, which is expected to settle the differences between the two countries, will be signed anyway just as soon as Diez De Medina, the Bolivian minister, receives instructions.

Another neutral South American country will be selected in place of Argentina. An invitation had been extended to Argentina as a means to bring her back into the Pan-American family. No Agentina delegates are attending the present conference. The vacancy on the commission probably will be offered to Colombia.

Mother And Baby Perish In Blaze

(International News Service)

SUNBURY, Pa., Jan. 3.—A mother and her 18-month-old daughter were burned to death Wednesday when fire destroyed a garage above which the family lived in an apartment at Northumberland, near here. Loss was estimated at $40,000.

Mrs. Mary Golick, 24, and her daughter, Gerdith, 18 months old, perished in the flames. Two other children, Donna, five, and Edith, three, were seriously burned, but were rescued and brought to a hospital here, where physicians said they had slight chance for recovery.

The fire, which was believed to have been caused by an explosion of gasoline in the garage, swept through the building rapidly, cutting off the escape of the Golicks and several other families who were rescued by firemen.

Pinned Under Car Girl And Driver Badly Injured

VANDERGRIFT, Jan. 3.—Harry Rowe, aged 19, of Gravelbar, near here, and Thelma Burkett, aged 19, of North Seventh street, Apollo, are in the New Kensington hospital in a serious condition as the result of a wreck in which the auto in which they were riding overturned near New Kensington. The automobile pinned the girl and her escort underneath and passing motorists extricated them from the wreckage and took them to the hospital. They may not recover.

Cupid Loses Out In Venango Co.

FRANKLIN, Jan. 3.—Nineteen hundred twenty-eight wasn't quite so good a marrying year as 1927, according to final tabulation of figures. A total of 405 licenses were issued for the year just passed, 27 of them during the month of December, compared to a total of 424 the previous year. December, 1927, was something of a busy month, with a total of 42, or just about enough margin over the present December to put 1927 over the top.

Indiana Preacher To Begin Series Of Meetings Here

Arrangements have been completed for the special evangelistic services which will open next Sunday in the Wesleyan Methodist church, Lyndal street and continue for two weeks.

Rev. Jesse Whitecotton, evangelist of Lapel, Indiana, has been secured to assist the pastor, Rev. W. H. Armstrong during the meeting.

Rev. Whitecotton was in this city about a year ago and conducted a series of meetings in the Wesleyan church. While here he made many friends who will be pleased to hear him again. He is considered a very able speaker and preacher and is very much in demand for evangelistic service. He was one of the speakers at the Stoneboro campmeeting last summer which was attended by a number of New Castle people.

Rev. Whitecotton will have for his singer, Raymond Lewis of Van Wort, O. Mr. Lewis is gifted with a splendid voice and is a good leader.

Here's Real Modern Danger; Broadcasting Stations Must Be Guarded From Aviators

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—It is probable that the federal radio commisison in the near future will request a second time or will require all broadcasting stations in Pennsylvania to mark their towers with red lights to eliminate the hazard to aircraft collision.

Complaint has been made to the commission that many stations have not marked their towers and that they are a serious menace to airmen. The commission has already requested all stations to paint and illuminate their towers, and agitation here now is demanding the passage of any legislation necessary to force the broadcasters to abide by this request.

F. C. Hingsburg, chief engineer of the airways division of the department of commerce, has suggested in a report to Secretary of Commerce William Whiting that the commission be prevailed upon to require the painting and lighting of all radio towers to increase visibility.

He suggests the use of 100-watt red lamps in waterproof globes on the top and at points one-third and two-thirds from the top of the towers.

PLAINGROVE

LOURY FUNERAL

The remains of Dr. James Loury of Cochranton, Pa., who died at the Presbyterian hospital at Pittsburgh, were laid to rest in the U. P. cemetery on Sunday afternoon at Plaingrove. Dr. Loury leaves one brother, John Loury, and two sisters, Mrs. Martha Lusk and Mrs. W. W. Humphreys here to morn his loss. Dr. Loury was well known here having been born and raised in this community.

PLAINGROVE NOTES

Rev. N. B. Clung and family have returned from attending the funeral of a near relative at Leipsic, Ohio.

Rev. A. I. Dickerson was not able to have charge of the services at the Presbyterian church on Sabbath. Prof. McCandless of Harlansburg substituted.

Mrs. George Dunn of New Castle, is spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al. Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Badger and daughter Jennie of Portersville, motored to Plaingrove to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shoaff.

Thomas McConahy was removed to the Shenango Valley hospital on Thursday for an operation for appendicitis. His condition remains favorable.

Word has been received here of the accident which occurred to Lawrence Stevenson, son of Rev. Stevenson, formerly of Plaingrove. Friends all hope for his speedy recovery.

Friends here were sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. Burdella Glenn at her residence at Slippery Rock. She is slightly better at this writing. Mrs. Glenn was formerly of Plaingrove.

The Presbyterian church elected the following officers: Superintendent of Sunday school, Homer Glenn; assistant, Paul Studebaker; treasurer, Lester Offutt; pianist, Helen Patterson.

The remains of Mrs. Jennie Loury Ramsey of New Castle was laid to rest in the U. P. cemetery on Saturday at Plaingrove. She also was raised in this community and well known here.

The advanced cooking class met at the home of Mrs. Jay McCune. A large attendance was present. A luncheon was cooked and served by the teacher, Miss Wrathall and her assistants. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. John Eppinger.

Miss Jennie Graham of near Elliots Mills and Kenneth Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith, were united in marriage on Tuesday at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. I. Dickenson. The couple were unattended. The bride wore a lovely brown costume. The parties went for a short honeymoon.

Those present were Mrs. Ada Offutt, Mrs. Ethel Pollock, Mrs. A. I. Dickenson. Mrs. Paul Palmer, Mrs. Bertha Shoaff, Mrs. Pearl Stevenson, Mrs. Margie Pollock, Mrs. Elsie Cunningham, Mrs. Amanda Flack, Mrs. Lucy Wallace, Mrs. Mae Peebles, Mrs. Phillo Rodgers, Mrs. Lola Eppinger, Miss Lois Polloch, Mrs. Ellis Locke, Mrs. Jay McCune and Miss Wrathall.

Less risk of "flu" if you do two things

Precautions you can take immediately

"THERE is no use worrying every time you draw a breath for fear you will breathe in some influenza germs. Do the following two things and forget it: First, keep your nose and throat well protected, and second, keep your system in good condition. The chances are you will avoid contagion.

"As a first precaution, I am prescribing Mistol to all my patients, as it protects the nose and throat against the germs of influenza. Use it every morning, the first thing, before you go out. Again when you come home at night. Don't be afraid to use it freely; it will do no harm.

"Just tilt your head back and apply Mistol with the special dropper which comes with every package, until you feel it trickling down your throat. It will clear your head wonderfully, relieve any inflammation; it will help dry up a running nose. It has a soothing effect on the throat, too. Gargle it for a sore throat or a little irritating cough. Above all, it protects the nose and throat against the germs of influenza.

"This is the first precaution; now for the second: Physicians agree that, particularly in times of epidemic, weakening of the system due to purging by laxatives and cathartics is not advisable; therefore, many doctors are prescribing Nujol. It is not a laxative or cathartic but a pure, natural substance that helps your system function at all times the way nature intended it to. Like pure water, it is harmless. In no case does Nujol cause weakening of the system. Take it night and morning; it will keep you in first class condition. You will have a far better chance to resist "flu" or any other diseases that are going the rounds.

"The combination treatment of Nujol and Mistol is a double safeguard against colds and influenza. Start this wise twofold precaution now. Don't delay. Put worry out of your mind. The chances are good that you will escape influenza and colds. Nujol and Mistol are on sale at all druggists."

Studebaker announces a new and finer Commander at a still lower price

at the factory

THE world's first truly great motor car of moderate cost now becomes a car still finer . . . at a price still lower!

A new Commander by Studebaker, builder of champions! Worthy heir to the laurels of its gallant predecessor—The Commander which traveled 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes. This record has never been successfully challenged save by Studebaker's great President Straight Eight!

By the worth of a score of betterments, this new Commander merits its heritage of honors. It is the greatest automobile ever built and sold at its price.

New Beauty · · New Comfort · · New Safety

Artists in coachcraft have deftly re-directed its excellent body lines into effects of arresting beauty. Body mouldings contribute to the look of length, of lowness, of eager speed. Color harmonies new to motordom, add to the new Commander's beauties, and enhance its graces.

The new Commander rides more easily—seats its passengers more comfortably—clings to the road at high speed even more steadily. New ball bearing spring shackles and larger hydraulic shock absorbers. Wider, deeper, softer cushions. A lower center of gravity. A safety steering wheel that cannot fail. Brakes silken-smooth yet powerful. Non-shatterable safety windshield.

Adding new fame to this famous car:

DOUBLE-DROP FRAME
WIDER DOORS
WIDER REAR SEAT
NEW, LONGER, LOWER LINES
NON-SHATTERABLE WINDSHIELD
ADJUSTABLE FRONT SEAT
SAFETY STEEL-CORE STEERING WHEEL
AUTOMATIC CHOKE CONTROL
BALL BEARING SPRING SHACKLES
HYDRAULIC SHOCK ABSORBERS

NEW COMMANDER BROUGHAM FOR FIVE, $1525. Bedford cord upholstery of French pillow type, with folding center arm rest in rear seat. COMMANDER SEDAN, $1375. Prices at the factory. Equipment, other than standard, extra.

Never was Studebaker's engineering genius and unique One-Profit manufacture better exemplified. Never was Studebaker's 77-year-old tradition of manufacturing integrity entrusted more safely.

Here is a six-cylinder motor car utterly without peer in its price class, because it is faster, more enduring, more beautiful, more comfortable. It is a Studebaker and a champion. There are no finer motor car credentials than these.

What Should A Hotel Clerk Know? Here's One

Just what should a hotel clerk know?

Don't give the jibe answer of not much but lend an eager ear to the plightful story of this one youthful clerk who happens to be stationed on his post during the night hours.

The gentleman is Richard Shanley, night clerk at a local hotel. Last night some one called and asked if one should deal to the left or to the right in bridge.

Now Mr. Shanley, thinking that some one was pulling a fast one, stated that Mr. Hoyle advised dealing to the left but personally he always preferred the right deal.

The voice at the other end voiced his thanks and hung up. Evidently it was some one who didn't know the lure of the deal and really meant it.

Hotel clerks throughout the city state that they get calls from every source and concerning every nature of thing. A clerk must always be prepared to tell the name of the cow that kicked the lantern that started the Chicago fire or he must know the name of the man that discovered that land that they call America.

Believe it or not, 'strue.

Young Man Dies At New Wilmington

Flu-Pneumonia Causes Death Of William G. Vance, Near College Town

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 3.—The relentless "flu" took another life in New Wilmington when William Gault Vance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus M. Vance, died at his home northwest of town yesterday afternoon. After a short illness from "flu", pneumonia set in and claimed the life of the 25-year-old college town man.

Mr. Vance was graduated from the New Wilmington high school in the class of '22 and attended Westminster college, lacking only a few points from graduation. He was a member of the Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity on the Westminster campus.

Besides his mother and father, a brother, John C. Vance, survives the deceased. The funeral services will be held at the Vance home Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the Rev. J. Ralph Neale of the local United Presbyterian church will conduct the services. The late Mr. Vance was a member of the local Presbyterian church. The interment will be in the Fair Oaks cemetery, east of New Wilmington.

"Bill," as the friends of the young man called him, was one of the best liked men of the town and his death was a shock to his many friends.

Critics are people who discover it is great stuff after the common people have been raving about it for ten years.

Full many a flower is born to blush unseen because it doesn't hook up with a live-wire who can attend to the selling end.

Fliers Plan For Good Will Flight To South America

Captain M. P. H. Liddy And Parker Cramer Will Take 20,000 Mile Jaunt

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Captain M. P. H. Liddy, Canadian war ace, will leave Chicago within the next ten days on a 20,000 mile good will flight to South America, it was announced here Wednesday. With him will be Parker D. Cramer, of Clarion, Pa., who attempted a trans-Atlantic flight last year with Bert Hassell, Rockford aviator. Their plane landed in Greenland.

The plane, a Bellancia, will take off from Maywood Field, Capt. Liddy said today. He said the flight is being sponsored by a prominent Chicago physician and by the Flyers' Club, internationale, of which he is a member. The Pan-American flight will take in the Bahamas, Argentine, Paraguay and Bolivia.

Capt. Liddy is a lawyer and fought for two years with the British forces in France.

New Type Rural Mail Box Given U. S. Approval

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—Patrons on rural postal routes and star routes in the vicinity of New Castle who wish to erect new mail boxes of sufficient capacity to contain parcel post will be interested in the announcement that Postmaster General Harry New has just approved a new model of the large size No. 2 mail box for use on rural and star routes and has directed that after July first the manufacture and sale of No. 1 box be discontinued.

The new No. 2 box will also supersede, sofar as manufacture and sale are concerned the old No. 2 box now in use. Assistant Postmaster General H. H. Billany states.

All approved rural mail boxes now in use on rural and star routes may be continued in use so long as they remain weatherproof and serviceable, but patrons on new routes, new patrons on existing routes or persons desiring to provide boxes of sufficient capacity to accommodate parcel post mail will be required to furnish boxes of the new No. 2 design after July first, Mr. Billany announces.

Drink Lots of Water —Guard Against Flu

Here are four good rules to guard against the Flu. (1) Keep away from crowds. (2) Drink lots of water and eat only good wholesome food. (3) Go to bed early and sleep with at least one window partly open. (4) Keep your bowels open—BE SURE. The best intestinal cleanser is the simple glycerin, buckthorn bark, saline compound, known as Adlerika. This acts in 2½ to 2 hours on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only).

Adlerika often brings out foul matter which may have poisoned you for months and which you would never believe was in your system.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, well-known New York bacteriologist, after testing Adlerika on living subjects, reports: "Adlerika markedly reduces the number of bacteria and colon bacilli, in addition to its intestinal cleansing action."

Give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel! Just ONE spoonful gives wonderful relief in chronic constipation, GAS bloating, sour stomach and sick headache. No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you.

It contains no aloes, calomel or senna, therefore acting without griping or discomfort of any kind. Adlerika is sold by leading druggists in tin-foiled bottles.

MAN, AT 78 PRAISES KONJOLA; AILMENTS QUICKLY BANISHED

Now Happy With Renewed Health; Stomach And Kidney Troubles Routed By Master Medicine.

MR. NATHAN SCHRECKENGOST

Age is no barrier to the powers of Konjola, the new medicine, for this medicine does not give merely temporary relief, but it goes to the very fount and source of the ailment. Mr. Nathan Schreckengost, 102 Schenoz street, Meadville, in praising Konjola, made the following statement:

"It was my stomach, kidneys and bowels that gave me the greatest trouble. Day in and day out they brought on a myriad of pains and suffering. At my age, 78, I felt sure that I was beyond the aid of anything human. Meals brought me no pleasure and my nights held no peaceful sleep.

"I was advised to take Konjola. Insistance won and I decided to find out what this medicine would do for me. Right from the start it worked its miracles on me. I gained strength and energy. My stomach, liver and kidneys are restored to normal activity. Now I am convinced that Konjola will also do for all sufferers what it has for me. I indorse it so that others may have the means to learn of its merits."

Konjola is sold in New Castle, Pa., at the Love & Megown drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Forester Gives Suggestions For Planting Of Shrubbery

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—State Forester Joseph S. Illick today outlined a number of suggestions for the spring planting of trees and shrubbery as a means toward home beautification. The suggestions, he said, were timely because a great many people prepare during the winter months, careful plans to be followed when planting becomes possible.

"It should be remembered that in beautifying the home with trees the outlay can be regarded as an investment in beauty, health, comfort and finally in cash value," Illick said. "All of these are important but any one of them would make the investment worth while.

The suggestions as outlined by Forester Illick follow:

In the beautification of any home grounds there are several important things to consider. The first is to remove all undesirable material. The second thing to do in the development of the home grounds is to plant desirable shrub or tree species. There are a number of distinct types of planting, and these should be kept in mind when one is developing the surroundings of a humble home or a princely palace. Most important of these are doorway, foundation, background, boundary, group and specimen planting.

Doorway and foundation planting is possible in practically every home. It is a rare house that looks well with its base totally exposed. The most widely used material for this purpose is small evergreen trees. Trees should be planted that do not grow high and are well adapted to shearing and pruning. Among the trees best adapted are prostrate juniper, dwarf mountain pine, blue spruce, arbor vitae, white spruce and Douglas fir.

Trees for background planting should be the larger and more vigorous kinds that grow sufficiently high. Among suitable trees for this purpose are tulip tree, red oak, American elm, and sugar maple. In special places the weeping willow, white birch and Lombardy poplar can also be used advantageously.

Between the house and the boundary line of the property lies that portion of the lawn that is often difficult to handle. It is here that one must consider planting along drives and walks, and setting out individual specimens and tree groups. All of these need to be developed so as to produce a harmonious whole and great care should be taken in the proper arrangement.

Individual trees with striking features are very attractive. The redbud and dogwood are striking examples of trees with attractive blooms. The mountain ash is attractive both for its bloom and fruit. The Christmas holly is famed for its foliage. The weeping willow, weeping birch and pin oak have impressive form features. Pin oak fulfills every requirement of an excellent lawn tree. Other excellent specimen lawn trees are the fernleaf beech, Japanese maple, American cork maple and selected species of our native maples and birches.

Report Decline In Flu Epidemic

(International News Service)

CHARLEROI, Pa., Jan. 3.—The upper Monongahela valley district, after weathering a three weeks' influenza scare, is noticeably relieved today. A survey conducted by health boards in principal towns shows sickness in the decline.

Attendance in Charleroi schools is normal this week, while Monongahela, Donora and Monessen schools are gradually reaching normal, according to the survey. Seasonal sickness is on the wane, due principally to extraordinary precautions which are now being taken against grippe and influenza.

Baby Swallows Pin; Rushed To Hospital

WOOSTER, Jan. 3.—Patricia Denny, one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denny of this city remains a patient in the Cleveland Clinic hospital while surgeons keep her under observation. The child on Sunday, Dec. 23, swallowed a pin that she removed from a woman's hat. The pin consisted of a triangular ornament and a rather long pin.

The mother discovered what the child had done when the child began choking. Opening the baby's mouth she saw the end of the pin but she could not reach it. Dr. J. J. Kinney advised the child be taken to Cleveland.

The pin has since gone downward so that it causes the baby no great inconvenience. The condition has not yet reached a point where an operation has been possible.

Afghanistan King Rewards Soldiers

PESHAWAR, India, Jan. 3.—King Amanullah of Afghanistan, according to advices received today, is celebrating the victory over the rebels in the vicinity of Kabul by distributing Largess to his soldiers. He gave the troops of the capital garrison a bonus of two months' pay and raised the pay of his body-guard from 14 to 20 rupees monthly.

Owing to severe cold in the region of Kabul another rebellious concentration there is considered improbable.

Fisher-Martin Address Electoral College In Session On Wednesday

John B. Grier, Butler, Named President Of State Electoral College

Pennsylvania Stages Final Act In Elevation Of Hoover To Presidency

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—Pennsylvania's electoral college met in the senate chamber here Wednesday and cast thirty eight votes for Herbert Hoover for president and Charles Curtis for vice president.

Robert B. Grier, of Butler, was elected president of the college and Franklin L. Wright, of Norristown, was chosen vice president.

Immediately upon the organization of the college, Governor John S. Fisher was invited to address the electors. The Governor accepted the invitation and pointed out that the meeting of the college is the final act of Pennsylvania in helping elect Herbert Hoover.

New Era Typified

"The election of Herbert Hoover by the largest vote ever given," said Governor Fisher, "Typifies a new era. Herbert Hoover is a plain Quaker given to the practices of peace and has devoted his life to those things which build up the civil things."

The Governor said he felt that the college would, with a deep sense of satisfaction, cast its votes for Hoover.

General Edward Martin, chairman of the Republican State Committee, was also invited to address the college and he thanked the electors for the part they took in the recent campaign.

"Pennsylvania is again the banner state of the Union," he said, commenting on Pennsylvania returns. He said that his association with Hoover convinced him that only common sense measures would develop during his administraton and that the would fit well in the Republican organization of Pennsylvania.

The college received a communication from Governor Fisher setting forth the total votes cast for each elector and then the electors proceeded to cast their ballots. The results showed thirty-eight votes for the Hoover-Curtis ticket.

Votes As Souvenirs

Handsomely gold embossed cards with the names of the candidates were used as ballots by the electors. They were returned to the electors after the vote was announced so that they could retain them as souvenirs of the occasion.

Thirty-one of the regularly elected delegates were present today and the college filled the seven vacancies.

Absentees were: Jacob D. Lit, William Henderson, E. James Cunningham, Francis J. Kooser, Arthur W. Milne, Mrs. Edith A. Rea and Charles B. Keebler. Substitutions were: Jay J. Lit, Philadelphia; Wayne Longstreth, Philadelphia; Norman A. Cunningham, Mifflintown; J. B. Bell, Somerset; Clark O. Tayntor, Erie, Mrs. Fernada S. Frazier, Allegheny; and Miles Bryan, Allegheny.

Mr. and Mrs. George Seaman and children of Braddock have returned home after a week's visit with Mrs. Seamans' mother, Mrs. Andy Senchak and family.

Horse Will Soon Be Rarity Says Motor Club Head

One Horse Shay Now Attracts More Attention Than Airplanes

The one horse shay, that aristocratic means of transportation of long ago, is a rare sight on the highways today and attracts almost as much attention as an airplane did a few years ago, states Bernard Hanlon of the New Castle motor club.

Mr. Hanlon recalls the fact that some time ago the last horse and carriage of the White House was dispensed with and replaced by a motor car. The carriage was used by the house keeper.

The adjutant general of the army has a collection of historic carriages used by presidents in the past.

In Lawrence county, figures for the number of horses has decreased until there are few more than a thousand remaining, whereas as actual survey shows that there are but a dozen or so horses in the entire city of New Castle.

According to recent surveys, states Mr. Hanlon, the horse is fast disappearing and the modern automobile taking its place in the world of transportation.

1,800,000 Auto Drivers Seek Penna. Renewals

Motor Vehicle Department To Begin Sending Out Application Blanks This Week

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—With the annual rush for automobile license plates about over the Bureau of Motor Vehicles will begin to relicense the 1,800,000 drivers in the state. Benjamin G. Eynon registrar, has directed the postoffice here to release these application forms. The drivers' licenses expire at the end of February.

Next Monday the Harrisburg postoffice will send out the application blanks. These applications are returnable at any time.

During the last few weeks the postoffice handled approximately 1,000 tons of license tags. Despite the Christmas rush the postoffice managed to find storage space for 35 tons of drivers renewal blanks. More than 1,000 pouches are ready for consignment to 2,100 postoffices of the state. The Bureau of Motor Vehicles according to its own records is a good customer of the postal service. In 1927 the postage bill was $262,054 while the year previous it was $218,954. Totals for 1928 are not available.

Ended Stomach Misery; Toned Up His System

Engineer Vastly Benefited By Ten Herbs; Headaches Gone; Nerves Quieted

"I can honestly recommend Ten Herbs to anyone suffering with stomach trouble or in need of a first-class tonic," was the recent statement of Mr. Samuel M. Cooper, Route 2, Volant, Pa. (near New Castle), to the

MR. SAMUEL COOPER

Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this famous new herbal medicine.

"My health had been poor for some time," continued Mr. Cooper, who is a stationary engineer. "I suffered a great deal with my stomach. I had indigestion, and food did not seem to do me much good. Gas made me bloat and caused me to retch after eating. I was very nervous, and my head would ache. At times dizziness came on me until I could hardly walk. There were pains in my back and loins, and I had to arise several times during the night, disturbing my rest, which I needed for my day's work.

"I read about Ten Herbs in the papers and made up my mind to try it. I am glad that I started using your medicine, for it relieved my stomach trouble. Gas no longer forms, and that bloated feeling has left me. My appetite has been restored, and I can eat a hearty meal without fear of distress afterwards. Nervousness has been relieved, and dizziness has disappeared. Headaches have passed away, and I no longer have that tired-out, run-down feeling. I get a good night's rest, as my sleep is not broken by having to arise like I used to. I feel fit for work at all times."

Ten Herbs has been a blessing to a great number of men and women of this section by ending disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Its wonderful natural ingredients have a cleansing and beneficial effect on the whole system.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Insurance Policies Affected By Ruling

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—In a case regarded as of great importance in the insurance world, the supreme court ruled that money obtained from life insurance policies becomes a part of the estate subject to Federal taxes when the deceased had retained the right to change the beneficiary at any time.

The case was started by the Chase National Bank of New York and involved taxes paid the government on approximately $200,000 in insurance carried by Herbert W. Brown, who died in 1924. Brown left an estate of $524,000, not including the policies. After allowing certain deductions, including $40,000 on the policies, the government levied taxes on the remainder.

Don't Neglect a Cold Now, is Doctor's Advice

Don't neglect any cold nowadays. Colds are so weakening; and in a weakened condition, you are so susceptible to more serious troubles.

When you find you are catching cold, take care to keep the bowels open. That's the first precaution every doctor advises. That's the way to avoid the congestion which makes you feverish, achy, half-sick, miserable.

Millions know the quick way to open the bowels, keep them active, is with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup of Pepsin. Every second of the day someone, somewhere is going into a drugstore to get a bottle of this splendid medicine, made from simple laxative herbs and pepsin by the formula Doctor Caldwell found so effective during his 47 years' medical practice.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup of Pepsin is mild and gentle in its action but it is promptly effective on the most robust constitution. Containing neither narcotics or opiates, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it gladly.

For colds, fevers, biliousness, indigestion, headaches, heartburn, nausea, bad breath, loss of sleep—any troubles caused by poor digestion or faulty evacuation, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup of Pepsin will prove a blessing.

Hunt Kidnaper Of School Girl

Atlanta Has Kidnaping Sensation; Hunt "Old Man With Cane"

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Jan. 3.—Police today were searching for a mysterious "old man with a cane" as the kidnaper of Doris Turner, popular 16 year old high school student.

Parents of the girl, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar L. Turner, informed police that they were certain the girl had been kidnaped yesterday morning.

She was missing from the time she left her home for school early in the day. Later her parents received a special delivery letter, which they said was in the girl's handwriting, saying she had been kidnaped by "the old man who carries a cane."

The man, the schoolgirl wrote, gave her a handkerchief, and she said, she didn't remember anything after that until he asked her if she wanted to write her parents.

The girl described her kidnaper as "a kind old man about half crazy, but not desperate," she said she was so nervous she could hardly write.

Declares He's Not Third Choice For "Connie" Of Movies

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—"Every stray man who decides to get a divorce is tacked onto my daughter by the busybodies."

Thus Mrs. Margaret Osborne, mother of the Talmadge sisters, disposed today of Townsend Netcher, Chicago department store owner, whom these same "busybodies" have been ballyhooing as Connie's next husband.

Connie and her mother returned today aboard the Cunard Liner Berengaria, and according to the ship news men Norma—Mrs. Joseph Schenck, was a third member of the party.

But Norma was not in evidence when the vessel docked.

County Road Bonds Reduced $376,000 During Five Years

Total Amount Of Road Bonds Still Outstanding Here Is $1,224,000

From 1924 until 1928 the county commissioners have paid a total of $376,000 on the county's road bonds according to County Commissioner T. J. McCullough.

The total amount of road bonds issued was $1,600,000. Payment on principal in 1924 was $66,000; in 1925 it was $69,000; in 1926, it was $72,000; in 1927, $77,000 and in 1928 it was $82,000.

These figures show that an increasing amount has been paid each year from 1924 in addition to keeping up the interest. The total balance on road bonds now owing by the county is $1,224,000.

DANDRUFF

A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

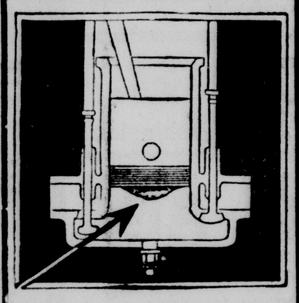

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy never fails.

Crippled Man Is Here On Tour

Makes Annual Pilgrimage To New Castle; Engraves Officers Watch

Last night among those who applied for a night's lodging at the Central police station was a colored man named John Henry Reed who had both legs taken off a number of years ago and who makes this city at least once a year.

In spite of his handicap of having no legs this colored man is not without his accomplishments, which helps him make his way about the country.

One of these accomplishments is the ability to do some engraving which he does with a home made tool consisting of a small piece of a file about an inch long and placed in a long home made wooden handle.

Last night with this crude and strange instrument he engraved the initials of Sergeant J. P. Steiner in a very neat fashion on the back of the latter's watch. He also did some of his work for other officers.

His work is extra nice when one considers the crude tool with which he does it.

Artillery Officers Will Meet Tonight

"Terrestrial Observation And Fire" To Be Subject Discussed By Craig

Artillery reserve officers will meet at eight o'clock this evening in the offices of Captain Melvin L. Craig, 422 Temple building, North street, for their monthly instruction, it is announced this morning.

Captain Craig, in charge of reserve officers' work in the New Castle district, will lecture on "Terrestrial Observation of Fire". This will be followed by blackboard work.

"Although this meeting is primarily for the officers in the artillery, other reserve officers who wish to attend the meeting will be given two full house credit, to count towards promotion," declares Captain Craig.

Fall Pig Crop Lower In State

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—A decrease of about ten per cent in the 1928 fall pig crop of Pennsylvania below the 1927 fall crop is reported by a survey just made public by W. F. Callander, chairman of the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture.

The fall crop in the Keystone state in 1928 amounted to only 90.4 per cent of the fall crop of 1927, the figures of the survey reveal.

The decrease in Pennsylvania was lower than the decrease for the country as a whole, the farmers of the entire country reporting a decline of only 5.3 per cent as against the decrease of 9.6 per cent reported by the farmers of Pennsylvania.

Auto Wrecker Has To Call Wrecker

It was a case of an automobile wrecker needing an automobile wrecker Wednesday evening on the Mt. Jackson hill, when the front wheel of the wrecker of the White Garage on Sycamore Way crashed up over an embankment as the result of a broken wheel.

The machine was approaching the top of the Mt. Jackson hill near Patterson store when the left front wheel broke and the car veered and crashed up over a lawn terrace.

With the exception of the broken wheel, little damage was done. No one was injured.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Substitute For Real Cotton Is Soon On Market

By GEORGE AXELSSON.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Jan. 3.—A cotton substitute that can be grown in Iceland and sold for $40 per ton at a profit and crops that can be determined in advance to within a few pounds with no boll wevil is the promise held out to the cotton growing world by Dr. C. J. Hedley-Thornton the "British Luther Burbank.' Dr. Hedley-Thornton has produced a fibre now known as artificial cotton for which he claims quality to cotton and in many respects superiority.

Dr. Hedley-Thornton now in Paris en route to Egypt to confer with leading cotton growers has told International News Service the history of his discovery hitherto shrouded in a veil of mystery that even British parliament investigations had been unable to rip apart.

Watched Humming Bird.

"While prospecting in British Guiana nine years ago I noted a humming bird nest which seemed to be made out of cotton of the roughest sort. Astonished I decided to find out how the bird made his nest. I found that he used the wood from a form of the bast family. By treating this weed with the water in a nearby pool he obtained the cotton like material.

"Our experiments which have been conducted for nine years are only an improvement on the humming bird method. Today we have passed the experimental stage and the Artificial Cotton corporation is ready to do business.

Dr. Hedley-Thornton also supplied some technical details on the artificial cotton.

"With this fibre we obtained 890 pounds of cotton from one acre. A cotton grower may get from 280 to 400 pounds if he is lucky. The second year due to multiplication of roots we triple the harvest.

Roots Are Treated.

"The roots are chemically treated before they are planted ten feet apart. Four months after planting we are ready for the harvest. In climates already favorable to cotton growing we can get two crops per year. In colder countries we do not expect more than one crop per year or possibly three crops in two years.

Unlike the cotton plant the weed thrives in any kind of climate and soil Clay soil is very favorable.

"We mean to sell the cotton substitute to spinners at 12 cents per pound. Should a price war result we can sell as low as 2 cents per pound and still make a profit since the by-products, paper, card and wallboards pay the entire production costs."

Atlanta Man Is Hurt In Accident Near Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—John Contos, 29, boxing and wrestling promoter of Atlanta, Ga., was recovering from minor injuries today, sustained when his automobile became unmanageable and plunged down a ten foot embankment here late last night.

Contos was en route home from Washington, D. C., the timing apparatus of the car failed and James Chigas, an employe of Contos, who was following in another car, undertook to tow Contos' machine. The breaking of the tow rope precipitated the accident. Contos was discharged from a hospital shortly after being treated.

Two Contagious Cases Reported

Two new cases of contagion today were reported to Dr. William L. Steen, city health officer. The patients are Grace Lang, 10, of 517 Sumner avenue, scarlet fever, and William Cripps, 612 State street, whooping cough.

Warrant Received, Matson Denies He Is Man Mentioned

Claims He Was Working Here At Time He Is Alleged To Have Been In California

E. H. Matson, automobile salesman, vehemently denied that he is the man wanted on a warrant received from Fresno county, Cal., at the sheriff's office this morning.

The warrant came in the name of H. M. Weaver alias H. S. Watson, alias L. L. Lindley. Recently Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds identified Matson as the man wanted in California. The identification was by photos and description.

Matson however deciares that he was never in Fresno county, Cal., and that at the time that he is supposed to have been there he was working for the McCoy Motor company of this city. He further states that it would have been impossible for him to have impersonated a military officer as he knows nothing of military tactics.

The warrant will be held here as a detainer until some disposition of Matson's case is made by the local court.

"Hired" Murderer Is In Custody Of Brooklyn Officers

Bristol Husband Slain By "Hired" Gunman; Wife And Admirer Are Implicated

(International News Service)

BRISTOL, Pa., Jan. 3.—The arrest of a New York Italian alleged to have been hired to kill the husband of a Bristol resident by the woman and her admirer was revealed by local police today.

The prisoner, Giaccomo Guccordo, was held without bail for extradition to Pennsylvania at a hearing in Brooklyn last night. An attempt will be made to bring him here today for questioning.

Gucciordo is alleged to have killed Giovanni Tilotta of this city a week ago at the request of Mrs. Ailotta and her admirer, Guisseppe Guida.

The local couple were arraigned last night before Justice of the Peace Edward Lymn and held without bail for a further hearing on January 16. Both will be taken to the county jail at Doylestown today.

Henry C. Fry, Of Rochester Dies

Aged President Of H. C. Fry Glass Company Passes Away

(International News Service)

ROCHESTER, Pa., Henry C. Fry, Sr., 88, president of the H. C. Fry Glass company, dean of glass manufacturers of this part of the country and known locally as Rochester's "grand old man", died at his home here early today.

Beginning as an assistant shipping clerk in the glass works of William Phillips & Co., Pittsburgh, he rose to be one of the leaders of the glass making industry of western Pennsylvania.

His business career was interrupted by the Civil war when he enlisted as a private in the 15th regiment, Pennsylvania cavalry, and served two years, participating in all the battles of the army of the Cumberland. After being mustered out, he embarked in the manufacture of glass under the firm name Lippincott, Fry & Co. of Pittsburgh. He retired from the firm in 1869. In 1872 he came to Rochester and had since resided here. He was instrumental in developing the town, served as president of the First National bank from its organization in 1883 until a few years ago, was formerly a member of the school board and of council.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Dell Fry; two sons, Major H. C. Fry, Pittsburgh, and J. Howard Fry, Chicago, and three daughters, Mrs. A. M. Jenkinson, Point Chautauqua, N. Y.; Mrs. H. J. Sage, New York, and Mrs. Nathan E. Kendall, Des Moines, Ia. Mrs. Kendall is the wife of a former governor of Iowa.

Mayor Gets "Kick Out Of His Job"

Intends To Continue Doing What He Believes Best For All

Mayor William H. Gillespie who has served one year of his four year term in reply to the question "How do you like your post following one year in office" remarked: "I get a good kick out of it."

"I suppose it has its pleasures and grief?" suggested a reporter.

"Yes, you are right. There is some grief connected with it and I have to do some things I do not care to do but these things must be done.

"I am trying to do what I think is best for all of the people and I will continue along that line" said the mayor.

Episcopal Board Seeks Coadjutor

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—A call was issued today by Bishop Thomas E. Garland of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Pennsylvania for a fourth conference to select a bishop coadjutor. Three ministers selected at previous meetings refused the post. The next meeting will take place here January 22.

Supreme Court Is Tackling Enormous Valuation Case

"Fifteen Billion Dollar Valuation Case" Opens In Supreme Court Today

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Eyes of the railroad and financial world turned to the supreme court today as it tackled the so-called "fifteen billion dollar valuation case" the outcome of which may determine the ultimate value of the rate-making purposes of all American railroads. The argument began today.

Two small railroads operating 14 miles of main line track in St. Louis and suburbs furnished the basis for an attack upon the interstate commerce commission's theory of valuation and rate making and the recapture clause of the Esch-Cummins law of 1920.

These railroads the St. Louis and O'Fallon and the Manufacturers, owned by the Adolphus Busch estate were represented by widely-known counsel and the government called as special counsel George W. Wickersham., Ex-attorney General, Walter L. Fisher of Chicago to aid the attorney general's office and the commission.

Fire Truck Used To Pull Down Railing

Railing On House At Corner Of Wallace And Highland Avenues Removed

Because it was a menace to public safety and so rotted away that it was no longer any use to the owner the new Pirsch service truck at the Central fire department this morning pulled the railing from the roof of the property at the intersection of Wallace and Highland avenues owned by Morris Newmark and occupied by Mrs. B. H. Hitchcock.

The menace has been reported to the police department twice. The balcony—or what remained of it after the high wind of January 2—came down very easily, states the report of Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn who superintended the work.

Red Cross Nurse At Public Service

Red Cross officials here wish that the people of New Castle would feel free to call for the organization's nursing service at any time. The nurse is employed for this one thing, and although kept busy at the present time, could handle a few more cases, they believe.

The nursing service is free of charge to all except those who can well afford to pay for the service. In these cases a slight charge is asked.

Although the flu epidemic is said to be waning here, nevertheless numerous cases are arising where service such as this is necessary. At the present time, chapter records show that numerous cases like flu and more serious illnesses are being cared for.

Miss Kathryn A. Hite is the nurse in charge here and will be glad to accommodate anyone who might care to use the service. Call 2697 for Red Cross service.

The small fee that is asked of those who can afford to pay for the nursing service is used to defray expenses incurred in the operation of the nurse's automobile. The Red Cross organization pays for the nurse's service.

Roll Call Report Now Shows $750

Further reports of the Lawrence county Red Cross chapter's 12th annual roll call, conducted about a month ago, show that a total of $750 was collected in the workers' canvass in the county.

Previous reports accounted for $735.80, but a recent donation of 13 cents and the report of the Volant workers boosted the amount to an even $750. Volant roll call canvassers under the chairmanship of Warren J. Wilkin reported $14.

According to Red Cross attaches, the Bessemer and Plaingrove districts still remain unheard from. Their reports will likely be made soon.

German Claims Serum To Cure Yellow Fever

By OTTO D. TOLISCHUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—"Yellow Jack," or Yellow Fever, the scourge of tropical countries, has been conquered if the claims of Professor Max F. Kuczinsky, noted German research scientist, stand the test of practical application.

Professor Kuczinsky claims to have discovered the virus which causes yellow fever and the serum which cures this plague and promises immunity from it through vaccination.

He and his woman laboratory assistant, Fraeulein Vianta Hohenadel, risked their lives to test the serum on themselves. They infected themselves with the virus and cured themselves with their serum.

Noted Symptoms

They suffered all the pangs of yellow fever, but carefully noted down all symptoms of the disease and the cure. Their ailment was of "particular interest" to them, it was explained, because they suffered from an "absolutely pure yellow fever." In the tropics, yellow fever is unusually complicated with other diseases which makes it difficult to tell just how the yellow fever acts on the body. With this "laboratorically purified yellow fever" they were able to check up on themselves accurately all phases of the disease and its cure.

The virus which causes yellow fever circulates in the blood of the victim, according to Professor Kuczinsky, and this explains why yellow fever can be transferred from one victim to another by mosquitoes.

As shown by the experiences of Professor Kuczinsky and Fraeulein Hohenadel, which were confirmed by numerous experiments on animals, yellow fever consists of a grave disturbance of the alimentary process, accompanied or caused by a complete collapse of the liver.

Not Yet Classified

The virus has not yet been identified bacteriologically, that is, it has not yet been classified in the bacteriological "rogue's gallery," because it dies and loses its identity when placed on the bacteriological "photographic chair".

But it produces yellow fever in man and animal when they are infected with it.

Invariably, Professor, Kuczinsky said, the infected animals recovered when treated with the serum and died when this treatment was omitted.

The discovery of the virus led to the discovery of methods for making animals immune from this disease, and the serum from these immune animals proved to be the healing serum for the fever victims.

The yellow fever infection is the third grave risk which Professor Kuczinsky has undergone in the interest of science. He suffered typhus in his work in Asia and petechial fever in Poland last year.

Public Debt In 1928 Reduced $828,000,000

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The American public debt was reduced $828,000,000 in 1928, bringing the government's gross obligations to $17,309,000,000 at the end of the year, the Treasury announced today.

This represents a reduction since the peak of the debt, in August, 1919, of about $9,000,000,000.

Prisoner Taken To Pen And Works

Alfred Monteith was taken to the Western penitentiary, and Steve Shaneski was taken to the Allegheny county workhouse, by Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Musser and S. J. Chambers this morning. Monteith was sentenced to the penitentiary on a of charge felonious rape and Shaneski was sent to the workhouse on a liquor charge.

Harsh Trial Date Set January 15

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 3.—George Harsh, self-styled "thrill" slayer, will stand trial for life on January 15.

The date was set today by the office of Solicitor General John A. Boykin.

No date has yet been fixed for the trial of his alleged accomplice, Richard Gallogly.

It was announced that the two erstwhile Oglethorpe University students will be tried separately for the murders of E. H. Meeks and Williard Smith, Atlanta store clerks.

Mrs. McCready To Carry On Insurance

Widow Of Late C. A. McCready Takes Charge Of Office In L. S. & T. Building

Many friends of Mrs. Laura C. McCready, widow of the late Charles A. McCready, will be pleased to learn that she has decided to carry on the fire insurance business of her late husband.

Mrs. McCready feels that she can pass the time much more agreeably and profitably if she has something to engage her attention.

As Mr. McCready built up a large insurance business during his lifetime, Mrs. McCready feels that there can be no more fitting tribute to his memory, than to carry on the business at the same place in the Lawrence Savings and Trust building.

Mrs. McCready is not a novice in the insurance business. In her earlier years she was engaged in the insurance work with Harbison and Knox, the former, A. W. Harbison, being her brother. She has also helped her late husband and is familiar with his business. In addition Mrs. McCready has engaged a competent and experienced young woman to assist her in the management of the office. With Mrs. McCready in charge, patrons will be assured the same courtesy and attention, that has always characterized the office during the management of her late husband.

Alarm Answered By Five Fire Trucks

Overheated Pipe Causes Small Damage To Place Of John McIntosh

Five fire trucks answered an alarm from box 16 this morning at 10:15, which called them to the place of John McIntosh, 102 West Washington street, where an overheated stove pipe did damage estimated at $60. Companies No. 1, 2, 5 and truck A and B, from the central fire department, answered the alarm.

The fire, it was ascertained, was caused by a stove pipe going through the ceiling becoming red hot. This set fire to the second story floor and the ceiling of the first floor. Two small cans of chemical and 100-feet of hose were used by the companies. The fire was out and the companies back in service again at 11 o'clock.

At the same time the governor announced the appointment of Colonel John C. Groome, of Philadelphia, as a member of the board of the Eastern penitentiary to succeed Alfred W. Fleisher, who died last week.

Influenza Epidemic Receding In West

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The influenza epidemic is receding west of the Mississippi, except in a few localities, but is slowly increasing in the East and parts of the South, according to official reports from 40 states, the district of Columbia and New York City tabulated by the public health service today.

For these states and divisions in the week ending Dec. 29, there were 162,288 cases officially reported as compared to 252,000 the week before. The reports represent considerably less than one fifth of the actual cases.

South American Countries Agree To Arbitration

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Final agreement on a treaty binding 20 Pan American countries to obligatory arligatory arbitration of disputes was reached today by the arbitration committee of the Pan American conference.

The treaty will be submitted for approval to a plenary session of the conference, probably tomorrow.

Girl Under Arrest, Admits Starting Of Fires For Thrill

(International News Service)

LATROBE, Pa., Jan. 3.—An urge to start fires when mentally depressed was the excuse given today by Dorothy Arch, 16, of Youngstown, Pa., who is charged with causing fires here.

The girl was taken in custody in Cleveland after an absence of several months.

Last summer Latrobe was the scene of several mysterious fires which baffled the police. Authorities said the young girl admitted starting three of the five fires. The girl was employed by several families here as a domestic.

Ten Head Of Cattle Lose Lives When Barn Is Burned

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 3.—Ten head of cattle were burned to death last midnight when fire destroyed the barn on the farm of Warren I. Oesterling near Carbon Center, six miles east of Butler. Other property destroyed included five hogs, a few chickens, farm machinery, 50 tons of hay, 30 tons of straw and 300 bundles of fodder.

Oesterling, who is employed as a fireman at the Fretz Moon tube plant in East Butler, found the barn in flames when he returned to his home at midnight. It was operated by Lewis Binsack. The loss is reported almost entirely protected by insurance and is estimated by the owner at over $10,000.

Impressive Speakers To Address Baptists Here

Miss W. Pauline Harris, Well-Known Missionary From China, To Be On Program

Several Hundred Delegates Expected In Friday From Beaver County Association

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 3.—A meeting of the association of Baptists of Beaver county will take place at the Baptist church of Ellwood City all day tomorrow. The sessions will begin at 10 a. m. and 1:45 and 7:30 p. m. respectively.

Speakers from the State Baptist board will be present, including the following: Director W. T. Russell, Rev. R. Donald Williamson, field worker of the board; Rev. S. W. Wilkens, missionary to the American Indian, and Miss W. Pauline Harris, famous missionary from Ningto, China.

The general theme of the convention will be the world thrust of the Northern Baptists. There will be addresses, open forums, round table discussions and a demonstration entitled "Facts in Action."

Delegates are expected from all the Baptist churches in Beaver county, and there will be special musical selections, as well as the luncheon and dinner menus served in the local church.

A council of women's societies will take place during the noon hour under the direction of Mrs. John Hough, association president.

The laymen will conduct a conference at the supper hour.

Boy Scout News

NEW WILMINGTON SCOUT NEWS

The New Wilmington Boy Scout Troop No. 1 on Tuesday evening, January 1, 1929, held their weekly meeting. The troop was called to order by the Senior Patrol Leader and bugler. The meeting was opened by the Color Ceremony.

Scoutmaster Jack Hulme gave a short talk on the Merit Badge Contest which is to be held in the near future.

The meeting was adjourned by the Assistant Scoutmaster.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday evening January 8th at 7:30. All scouts are requested to be present at the meeting.

Thomas Rogers, Jr., Scribe.

FIRST CHRISTIAN TROOP

The First Christian Church Boy Scout Troop No. 15 will hold its weekly meeting tonight at the First Christian church. The meeting was postponed from Tuesday on account of the New Year's holiday. The meeting will be in charge of Scout Master Sidney Smith and Assistant George McCracken. All scouts are requested to be present.

FLOOR READY

The gym floor of the Carnegie auditorium has been repainted, baskets have been placed and everything is in readiness for the scout troop teams for tonight. Three night of the week have already been reserved. All troop teams should report to scout headquarters at once if they wish to use the floor.

NOMINATE DIRECTORS

Wednesday evening the new directors for the Lawrence County Boy Scouts were nominated at a meeting of the nominating committee. The election will take place during the month of January.

EUROPEAN TRIP

There are but a few more places left for scouts on the European trip to the scout meet and jamboree next summer. Scouts who wish to go should not wait wait but should make their intentions known at the scout headquarters immediately. Mr. Calahan is in receipt of final plans for the tour and scouts who are in doubt concerning the trip should inquire.

NEW SCOUTS

One boy has brought nine new scouts into the organization since the beginning of the scout county wide contest for points which will count toward a trip to England and also for a free summer's camp. There are several new troops also being organized.

Bell Memorial Session Plans For Personal Visitation

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 3.—Members of the session of the Bell Memorial church met Wednesday evening for their monthly meeting. It was decided to make a personal visitation to each member of the congregation before communion Sunday which is January 3.

Although building plans for the new church were not discussed at the meeting Rev. King stated this morning that plans were to rush the erection of the church this spring. The excavaton and foundation work is completed. The completed structure will be of rich red brick located at the corner of College and Line avenues.

Improvement Noted On Hill Curve

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 3.—Another step in the improvement plans of the borough council was accomplished when a small army of workmen attacked the high bank adjacent to the second and dangerous curve on the New Brighton road. The curve has always been a mean one with the steepness of the grade, the sharpness of its curve and the high bank which obstructed the motorists view.

With the removal of the bank however the danger of accidents has decreased at least 50 per cent as the vision is clear to anyone motoring either up or down the grade.

PREPARATORY SERVICES.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 3.—Members of the congregation of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church will meet Friday evening in the church for preparatory service prior to the observance of Holy communion Sunday morning.

Rev. W. J. Engle of the Bessemer church will preach the preparatory sermon. The hour is 8 o'clock.

POSTPONE MEETING.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 3.—The meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church which was planned for tonight in the church has been indefinitely postponed on account of much illness among its members.

Elizabeth Johnston Pneumonia Victim

Member Of Johnston Family, Founders Of Geneva College, Dies At Age Of 89

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan 3.—Miss Elizabeth Johnston, "Aunt Libby" as she was affectionately termed by her many friends, succumbed to an attack of pneumonia Wednesday afternoon at the home of her niece, Mrs. Charles Bell, on Fifth street.

She was 89 years of age and had suffered an unfortunate accident about a month ago when she fell down a flight of stairs, breaking both of her wrists. However, she was recovering from that complication in fairly good condition when pneumonia set in a week ago, resulting in her demise yesterday.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Bell home this evening at 7:30 with the Rev. A. M. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church presiding, assisted by Dr. Clarence E. McCartney of the First Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, who is the son of Miss Johnston's minister in former years, and Dr. M. M. Pierce, president of Geneva college.

Miss Johnston was one of the last survivors of the family who were instrumental in the founding of Geneva college many years ago. Interment will take place in the Northwood cemetery of Northwood, O., the former home of the deceased, on Saturday, when a short service will be conducted.

"Aunt Libby" was a graduate of Geneva college and had resided for the past seven years with her niece, Mrs. Charles Bell of Fifth street. Her nearest relative surviving her is a brother, Lewis C. Johnston of Ben Avon. She also has many nieces and nephews, being one of a family of 13 children. Her many friends in this vicinity mourn the passing of a woman who, although old in years, was ever young in spirit.

Entertain For Daughter Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Van Gorder of this city entertained a group of young people at their home Tuesday evening in honor of the birthday anniversary of their daughter Miss Lavina which was an event of New Year's day.

Music and cards were the evening's diversion and the honor guest was presented with a number of lovely gifts by her friends. Later delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Van Gorder assisted by Mrs. Pearl Shanor.

Those enjoying the event were the Misses Lavina Van Gorder, Dorothy Shaner, Wilda Bingle, June Christie, Mabel Wehman, Esther Rinker, Mildred Keistling, Francis McElwain, Lida McElwain, Ruth McCabe, Elizabeth Zekeli, Audrene Scheidemantel, Margaret Blank, Jean McCaslin, Esther Richards, Helen Van Gorder and the Messrs. Frank Richards, Andy Zekeli, Howard Blank, Lawrence Flunner and Harold Hollerman.

Christian Church Revivals Continue

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 3.—Revival services at the First Christian church are continuing to draw large crowds this week. Last night Evangelist W. Graham Walker spoke on "God's Searchlight" stressing the fact that in his belief that every searchlight was trained on our hearts, actions, business, the home, the church and society in general.

Ted Evans the song leader contributed to the general success of the evening with his tenor solo "The Heart That Was Broken for Me." Tonight the evangelist will talk on "The Church Crucified, Between Two Thieves" and will illustrate his points with a large chart.

Wurtemburg Church Pastor Will Be Installed Friday

Dr. S. E. Irvine And Rev. S. B. Copeland, Of New Castle, To Take Part In Service

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 3. — Members of the Beaver Valley Presbytery will meet the evening of January 4 at the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church for the purpose of installing the pastor, Rev. John E. Caughey. Rev. Caughey has been on the field for the past month, but the formal installation ceremony takes place Friday.

It is expected that Dr. S. E. Irvine of New Castle will be present to preside; Rev. S. B. Copeland, also of New Castle to charge the pastor; Rev. W. E. Minteer of the United Presbyterian church of Ellwood City will charge the people and James H. Newton an elder of the church, will read the edict.

Rev. Caughey has been in the ministry for the past ten years, having recently been assistant professor of Bible at Westminster College. A new parsonage has been erected on the Wurtemburg-Portersville road, a six room house and modern in every respect. The installation meeting, which takes place tomorrow night, will begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock.

Rev. King Weds Enon Valley Couple

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 3.—Rev. John King of the Bell Memorial church returned yesterday from Enon Valley where he officiated at the marriage ceremony of Miss Helen Riddle to Lawrence Snyder of that place.

The marriage took place at the home of the bride's parents and the only attendant was Miss Marian Cotton. At the conclusion of a wedding breakfast the couple left on a post-nuptial tour of the eastern states.

MEETING POSTPONED

The Story Of The Panama Canal—Part 10
The Panama Revolt, 1903

AFTER THE COMMISSION OF ENGINEERS HAD APPROVED THE PANAMA CANAL ROUTE, CONGRESS AUTHORIZED PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO BUY THE RIGHTS OF THE FRENCH CANAL COMPANY, AND SECURE FROM COLOMBIA (OF WHICH PANAMA WAS A PART) A CANAL ZONE SIX MILES WIDE.

JOHN HAY, OUR SECRETARY OF STATE, NEGOTIATED A TREATY WITH COLOMBIA, BY WHICH THE UNITED STATES AGREED TO PAY $10,000,000 IN CASH AND $250,000 YEARLY FOR THE CONCESSION OF A PANAMA CANAL ZONE. THE COLOMBIAN CONGRESS, HOWEVER, THOUGHT THIS PRICE TOO LOW AND REJECTED THE AGREEMENT.

WE WERE FINALLY ON THE POINT OF SETTLING ON THE NICARAGUAN ROUTE, WHEN THE PEOPLE OF PANAMA, UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF SENORES ARANGO AND AMADOR, REVOLTED AGAINST COLOMBIA. PANAMA HAD LONG CHERISHED THE DESIRE FOR INDEPENDENCE, AND THE PROSPECT OF LOSING THE PROPOSED CANAL RIPENED THE SPIRIT OF REVOLT.

NOVEMBER 2, 1903, ON THE EVE OF THE REVOLUTION, AN AMERICAN CRUISER STEAMED INTO THE HARBOR OF COLON. HER MISSION WAS MERELY TO PROTECT AMERICAN PROPERTY IN CASE OF DISORDER, BUT THE PANAMANS HAILED HER COMING AS A PROMISE OF SUPPORT FROM THE UNITED STATES.

Jack Dempsey Will Attempt Comeback Soon

Four Opponents Are Mentioned

Sharkey, Paulino, Heeney Or Stribling Mentioned As Opponents For Dempsey

FIGHT TO BE HELD LATE THIS SUMMER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Jack Dempsey will return to the ring, once and for the last time, in a heavyweight championship fight late next summer, it was definitely declared by Ed. Frayne in today's New York American. Stating that he had positive information to the effect that the old champion had accepted terms, the author of the article then went on to say that Rickard will make an official announcement of the fact next week. He added that Rickard "already has the statement prepared for the press", and to this particular observation I prefer to add nothing.

However, since we all are sitting around telling stories on one another, I think I'll now tell one.

Four Opponents

If Jack Dempsey returns to the ring—and nobody can have me ruled off for that remark—he will fight only against one of the following four men:

Jack Sharkey, whom he already has licked; Paulino Uzcudun, whom he thinks he can lick; W. L. (Young) Stribling, whom he hopes he can lick, and Tom Heeney, whom he knows he can lick.

That definitely is the program—if Jack Dempsey returns to the ring, and, as I was saying, nobody can go around cauterizing my abrasions for a crack like that. Tommy Loughran, the light-heavyweight champion, will not be considered for a split second because Dempsey has played tag with these leaping Lenas before and he always finds that he is "it", so Loughran is out like a dead cigarette.

The rest of the program calls, it is understood, for the Stribling-Sharkey fight at Miami Beach on February 27, a meeting between Paulino and Heeney in April at the Garden, the winner to meet the Stribling-Sharkey survivor in June, and the final survivor to meet Dempsey for the championship.

To Start Training

At the risk of becoming monotonous, I will add that all of this is predicated on the question of whether Jack Dempsey will return much sooner. The Frayne story is likely to smoke out a lot of possums.

Among its many claims it declares that Dempsey has accepted terms for the match and that the boy friend will begin light training at Miami within a few days. It also states that the Dempsey fight will take place in New York in August or September, "depending on the length of time it requires Dempsey to get in shape, and that in meeting the winner of the heavyweight elimination tourney Dempsey obviously will be taking on the best man available.

To this I might add my amazement at the fact that the word "available" can cover so much and yet miss Tommy Loughran.

Anyhow, the interpretation to be taken, both from Frayne's story and from common belief, is that if Dempsey comes back he will not face what is termed "a new fighter". The four mentioned are his favorites; in fact, he positively dotes on some of them.

His opinion of Heeney is fairly well known, although he is far too considerate to make it public. He has watched Paulino and not only regards him as a chump fighter, but one who has lost his toughness. He undoubtedly figures that he can out-grimace Sharkey again and, as for Stribling, he may not be so sure, but he probably is willing to take a gamble.

Chicago spent 194 million dollars for Christmas which would indicate that the bandits have been overlooking something.—The San Antonio Express.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Boston finance commission, sitting yesterday as a tribunal to hear charges of bribe seeking, heard Emil Fuchs, Boston Braves president, testify William G. Lynch, city councillor, had sought a bribe for favorable action by him to permit Sunday sports in Boston. Lynch, according to Fuchs, told him he represented a bloc of 13 members of council and could hold up passage of the sports bill recently indorsed by a referendum in the state.

Roy Riegels, captain-elect, California football team, who ran in the wrong direction in the clash with Georgia Tech, says he "lost his bearings". He has been absolved by the coach. He says he wasn't out of his head and wasn't hurt but Riegels further explained that "somebody shoved me and I bounced into a tough tackler. In pivoting to get away from him I completely lost my bearings."

Tex Rickard, New York fight promoter, celebrated his 56th birthday yesterday like any other hospital patient at Miami Beach where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. Tex went south to supervise the launching of a new dog track but his appendix interfered and he was in the hospital when the race was run. He is getting along all right.

Jack Dempsey, according to New York reports, will make one more effort to win back the heavyweight championship he lost to Gene Tunney at Philadelphia in 1926. Formal announcement that the Manassa mauler had given his word to make an attempt to come back has come from Tex Rickard, at Miami. He will meet the winner of the pending heavyweight eliminations and he will appear in New York in August or September.

Lincolns-Castles Annex Victories In Y. M. C. A. Games

Lincolns Down Zelienople 36 To 16; Castle Six Girls Defeat Bessemer

The Lincolns of the City League and the Castle Six Girls were victorious in basketball games played at the Y. M. C. A. floor on Wednesday night. The Lincolns beat Zelienople 36-16, and the Castles defeated the Bessemer Alumni Girls 29 to 2.

The Castles put up a fine exhibition in the preliminary game. The Bessemer maidens were held scoreless from the field, and managed to annex a pair of fouls. Miss Burnett led the Castles in scoring with six baskets. Mrs. Hanlon and Miss Dagnon also played good basketball for the Castles. The score at the end of the first half was 17 to 0.

The Lincolns had little trouble in downing the Zelienople All-Stars in the big game of the evening. At half time the Lincolns had a lead of 18 to 10, through the fine work of Kulich, Gennock and Jones. In the second half of the game the Lincolns increased their lead with Kulich dropping four baskets and Gennock, Hill, Parker and McClelland each caging a basket. For Zelienople the work of Trebelcox was outstanding.

The summaries:—

Castles 29		Bessemer 2
Burnett	F	Farrell
Hanlon	F	Standich
Johnson	C	Rene
Hopkins	G	Ribarick
Swinehart	G	Perrel

Subs—Smith, Dagnon, Stone, Berry, Baden. Field Goals—Burnett 6, Hanlon 2, Johnson 2, Dagnon 2, Hopkins. Fouls—Castles, 3 out of 7; Bessemer, 2 out of 6. Referee—Gallagher.

Lincolns 36		Zelienople 16

Jones	G	Nesbitt

Subs:—Hill, Parker, Baptiste, Bell, Householder. Field Goals—Kulich 7, Gennock 3, Hill, McClelland, Parker, Uhle, Jones 2, Clarke, Trebelcox 3, Nesbitt. Fouls—Lincolns, 4 out of 8; Zelienople, 6 out of 12. Referee—Fraser.

Riegels At Fault Movie Reel Shows

Movie Reel Shows Riegels Famous Run Was His Own Choosing Not Shoved Around

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES Cal., Jan 3.—Following the release of the International—M. G. M. Newsreel motion picture of the famous forward-backward run of Roy Riegeles in the California-Georgia Tech football game at Pasadena on New Year's day his astounding performance was again the spotlight today.

The picture shows that the long sprint to his own goal line was chiefly his own idea, however faulty. After picking up the ball fumbled by Thompson, Riegels starter for the Georgia Tech goal. While his teammates were blocking, Riegle's suddenly whirled around and started in the wrong direction, the picture discloses. No one was near enough to touch him.

Benny Lom came, grabbed him on the one-yard line. Both rolled over the goal. They managed to scramble back just as they were struck by an avalanche of Georgia Tech players.

Good Left Essential

Jolly And Elmo Split; Datto, O'Leary, Goodman And Firpo Busy

To Fistic Performer

By ED. FRITZ

Our most skilled exponents of the art of hit and miss had an excellent left hand, and that member of the anatomy helped to pave the way to fame and its accompanying riches because any pugilist who achieves fame is certain to gather money in bundles as he travels along a fistic highway.

One can retrospect to the days of Gentleman Jim Corbett and find that it was Corbett's left hand that dangled in the face of the great John L. Sullivan and played a prominent role in bringing Corbett the heavyweight championship. Fitzsimmons had his left trained, not only for jabbing, but as a hook when he shifted.

And likewise, down the line to Dempsey who hooked to stomach and chin, and the retired king of the present heavyweights, Gene Tunney, shot a beautiful left. Abe Attel, Joe Gans, Johnny Kilbane, Benny Leonard and other boys who ruled the roost of their respective classes, or runners-up, had to have a good left, an essential to fighting.

Fighting for a wage is like everything else and vocations can only be taught and learned from the ground up. This is a reality in boxing, as the proper position of feet comes first, the legs and position next, for balance, then the correct posture of the arms and head.

The left trained right is a worthy weapon for attack or defense, and it was so vividly illustrated here New Year's afternoon when Henry Firpo and Jack Dillon boxed, that scarcely any person in the bowl missed its importance. Firpo used it in attack and to parry, and Dillon employed it to swing with and as a stomach barrier.

To Drop Angelic Role

Fans were somewhat disappointed Tuesday afternoon when they were not treated to the almost weekly sight of Elmo, pose and gestures. In his place was a boy of color, one George Lawson, who undertook the task of casting blows with Tom Farrow, also a lad of meerchaum complexion. George didn't go the limit with Tom, but the victory was sort of hollow as Lawson didn't apparently know what it was all about.

But the meat of the story is that Bill Jolly, so we have been informed, has decided that his role as angel to preliminary fighters should be abandoned. According to some of the boys, Elmo has been netting a nice weekly wage and didn't want to accept a cut which Jolly thought no more than fitting, as receipts have not been up to their usual quota.

Well do we remember when fighters of the preliminaries collected as high as $1 for six rounds. Battling Nelson collected that enormous sum, likewise Patsy Brannigan. Of course, that was some time ago. The price has risen to the point where other promoters voiced their opinion of Jolly because he paid as high as $40 to four-round boxers.

In some ways Elmo has gone a long way toward killing the goose that laid the golden egg. Not so long ago he got out of work and Jolly, in reply to voices that said "Elmo is going too often", remarked: "Oh, well, he is out of work and someone has to give him a fight." Tom and Elmo fought a fast fight Christmas and it will not be long until they clash again. Thought complexions change often in the fighting game.

Keeps His Staff Hustling

Jimmie Dunn believes in keeping his fight bees busy. While Firpo was boxing here, Mickey Dugan was beating a chap named Binerdi in Cleveland. Tom and Dick O'Leary were in training for bouts at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., January 4; likewise Johnny Datto at Toledo, and Joey Goodman will step out at Cincinnati Saturday night. Dunn and his fighters leave a lot of money in New Castle and Jimmie believes in spending part of it where he earns it. While here he purchased an automobile, his third car.

Dunn's fighters are always busy. Due to his training, knowledge of the game and the fact that he keeps a man busy firing out literature, he is able to keep his battlers busy. He has two assistants who aid him. Larry Keogh and Eddie Conrad help to take care of his fighters, but whenever Johnny Datto fights Dunn is his adviser. Firpo, so we have been informed, will fight Floyd Hybert in Cleveland at the next show, as Hybert beat Wilson Yarbo there New Year's day.

The opponents follow: At Toledo Johnny Datto vs. Billy Evans, Friday; at Wilkes-Barre, Dick O'Leary vs. Archie Bell and Tom O'Leary vs. Patsy Haley; at Cincinnati, Joey Goodman vs. Chet Smallwood, Saturday; at Cincinnati, January 12, Johnny Datto vs. Bobby Garcia. The date for the Firpo-Hybert show has not been named yet, but Dunn has signed Firpo's name to the articles. This will be their third meeting. It will be Firpo's first big shot in Cleveland.

County Basketball Teams In Session Friday Night

Four Games In County Class B League Will Take Place Friday

Games On Plaingrove, Bessemer, East Brook And Shenango School Floors

Teams in the Lawrence county class B basketball league will take another headlong plunge into the court game Friday evening. Four different games will be played throughout the county high schools.

According to the official schedule which was drawn up by the athletic committee of the county schools, Plaingrove and Mt. Jackson are meeting at Plaingrove; Bessemer and Enon Valley are clashing at Bessemer; and East Brook and New Wilmington are meeting on the East Brook floor.

The game between Shenango and Union has been cancelled due to the fact that the Union gym floor was not ready as yet. Shenango will play the New Castle Trade School. It is also thought that the Mt. Jackson-Plaingrove game will be played at Mt. Jackson. Should anything of this nature occur, announcement will be made prior to the game Friday evening.

Rooter talk in the county circles apparently has selected the Bessemer high varsity as winner for this year's cup and the Mt. Jackson girls team as victors in their realm.

New Wilmington Meets East Brook High On Friday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 3.—East Brook will act as host to the New Wilmington high school basketball team when the East Brook high school passers meet the local team there tomorrow evening.

While the fast college town five is conceded an edge in the contest, the East Brook team may spring a surprise. In the first two games of the season Coach Olsen's local outfit has won one and lost one, winning from the alumni and losing to Punxsutawney.

A change in the line-up was noted in the alumni game and any one of the following players may appear on the team that starts against East Brook tomorrow evening: Hartwell Newton, Eagleson, McGill, Hutchison, Patterson, Davis and Neal.

Physicians Assert "Tex" Recovering

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—The weird New Year's day gift of a decision to Bucky Boyle of Allentown over Gaston Lecadre of France at the Arena Boxing Palace here still continued to be the main topic of conversation in fistic circles today. Rickard Not To Postpone Fight

Sharkey-Stribling Battle February 27 Will Come Off As Scheduled

"TEX" PLANNING TO SUPERINTEND JOB

By SID MERCER
International News Service Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Although it will be at least a month before Tex Rickard can take up the heavier burdens of organizing and ballyhooing his heavyweight extravaganza at Miami beach there will be no postponement of the date for the Sharkey-Stribling quarrel which is set for February 27.

Word came from the stricken promoter last night to this effect. The irrepressible Tex, from his hospital bed, told Mrs. Rickard to convey to Colonel Hammond, general manager of Madison Square Garden, the compliments of the season and an announcement that the fight will positively take place according to plans and specifications worked out by Rickard before he was suddenly "kayoed" by Kid Appendix.

Colonel Hammond had expressed a doubt earlier as to whether the "pioneering at the front, usually conducted solely by Rickard, could be handled effectively by subordinates. Rickard, however, insists he will be able to assume full direction of his lieutenants within a week, and expects to be on his feet by February 1, when the ticket sale begins and the fighters pitch their training camps in Florida.

Tex had already arranged to draft some of his Garden experts to handle detail work in Miami. The work of constructing a boxing arena in the new greyhound track at the beach will be handled by experienced men, but Tex may delay building until he can get out to superintend the job. He says he can put up an arena in three weeks.

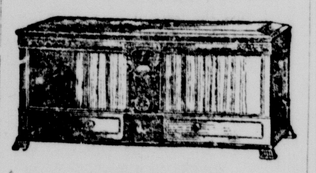

Possibly the date may be set back a week, but no longer. The end of February is the height of the Florida season. Early in March the exodus begins. Rickard doesn't want to lose any of the de luxe trade, for he is counting on it to put the show over big.

Walker-Hudkins May Be Matched

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Tom McArdle, Madison Square Garden matchmaker, intends to ask the New York boxing commission tomorrow to sanction a bout here between Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, and Ace Hudkins, who is generally recognized as the leading contender for the title as a result of his victory over Rene De Vos.

Tom McArdle Thinks 1929 Will Be Year For New Champions

Rickard's Veteran Matchmaker Says Loughran-Mandell Only Safe Bets This Year

Says Featherweight Division Will Be Ruled Over By Foreign Scrapper

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The featherweight championship will come back to America in a straight player deal, or something, in exchange for the flyweight title, which will go to Europe; Ace Hudkins will win either the welterweight or middleweight championship or both; Fidel La Barba, former flyweight champion, will take over the bantamweight title and, as for the heavyweight division, undoubtedly John J. Somebody will fall heir to the championship.

Looking ahead, as one will when faced with the unknown, Tom McArdle, Mister Rickard's man of matches, was very busy calling 1929's shots for him today and the above were a few of Thomas' utterances on the subject. The only incumbent champions who figured to remain, as is, throughout the year, he said, were Tommy Loughran and Sammy Mandell. According to Thomas' views, they stand out over all contention like a bald head by moonlight.

Loughran Real Champ.

"I don't see anybody in the light-weight division who can or will bother Mandell," said Thomas, busily blowing his bubble pipe. "Loughran is equally ahead of the light heavyweight field, having already beaten his best challenger, Leo Lomski. Of course, if Braddock beats Lomski this month he will deserve a title chance, but we can't cross that bridge before we come to it.

"Loughran and Mandell, anyhow, seem sure to go through 1929 with their titles. A man almost equally sure of a championship, I should say, is Ace Hudkins. He either will be welterweight or middleweight champion, depending on whether he gets Joe Dundee or Mickey Walker to accept his challenge first. He might even win two titles, for it may be that he will persuade both champions to go in there with him. He can lick the pair of them."

Pladner or Hill.

Spider Pladner, the Frenchman, or Johnny Hill of England will be the new flyweight champion, according to McArdle, who sees Izzy Schwartz and Frankie Genaro as somewhat passe, including a la phooey. La Barba, he says, has a "world of class" and will proceed to exhibit same to such purpose that the first bantamweight champion since Charley Phil Rosenberg will come into prevalent recognition.

The featherweight title? He says that will be removed, like an appendix, from Andre Routis of France and transferred to Al Singer of the Bronx, another foreign country. He seems to think Singer a more plausible prospect than Kid Chocolate, the Cuban; Benny Bass, the Philadelphian, or Tony Canzoneri, the champion, once removed. Canzoneri beat Singer, according to every witness, the last time out but I guess you can throw that one out. Any time a fight man can't explain a circumstance, he gives you his permission to throw it out.

As for the heavyweights, Mr. McArdle is assuming that somebody will win some time and, if so, what of it? Listening to the gentleman on this particular subject, one is forced to the conclusion that, so far as he is concerned, a heavyweight is a great thing—under the heavy end of the piano on moving day.

Get Dog Licenses Before January 15

All Dogs In County Must Be Licensed Before January 15

Get that dog license now at the county court house.

This is a fair hint to all dog owners in the county. The licenses may be procured from January 1 to 15. Following the 15th, states J. Wylie Brewster, county officer for the state bureau of animal industry, prosecutions will start.

Although the old licenses expired December 31, the new licenses are not given out excepting between January 1 and 15. Due to a misunderstanding of the rule, many appeared at the court house early for licenses and these persons were given them through the kindness of court house employes in charge.

According to the state law, all owners of dogs must have purchased the licenses not later than January 15.

N. Y. STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Industrial stocks were ready to climb further up the price scale at the first tap of the opening gong on the big board today. Stocks of the electrical manufacturing companies received a good boost on the report that New York Central would electrify its lines from New York to Buffalo. Though the report lacked confirmation, New York Central common stock jumped about 5 points to 193¼.

Radio Corporation crossed 400 with a rush and sold up about 11 points at 408 in the first hour, clinching the start performance records of the new year.

General Electric dropped 15 points of yesterday's late gains. Westinghouse sailed acong to 149½, a new 6½ point jump as a market opener, but was unable to keep up the pace.

All of the copper stocks were strong as a result of the 17-cent price for export copper, with still higher prices predicted. United States Steel common sold up about 2 points at 164, but the independent steels made little progress.

Pennsylvania Railroad was a strong running mate for New York Central and at 79½ the stock hold at the highest price in ten years. Union Pacific jumped 4 points to 222½.

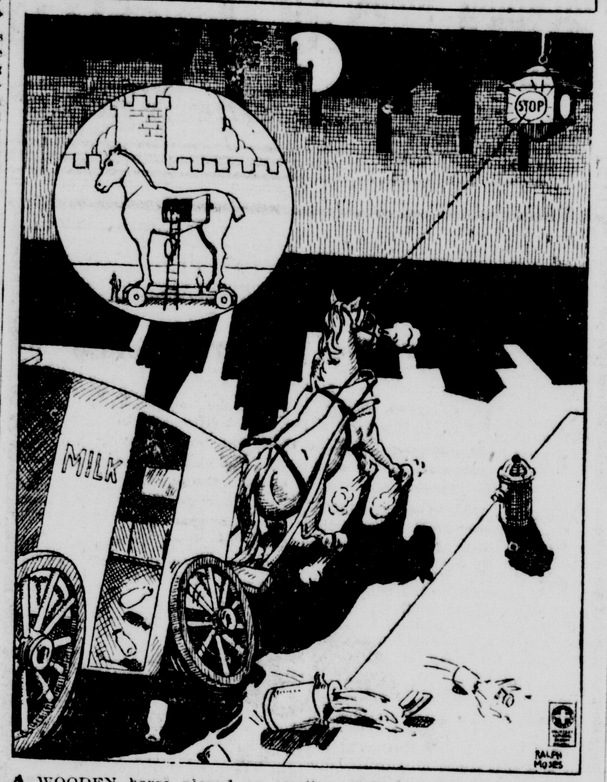

Money was in good supply at 10 per cent.

History and Horse-Sense

A WOODEN horse played no small part in the fall of Troy. A milk wagon steed helped write history in Stamford, Conn. The wooden nag outwitted the defenders of the Trojan gates. The milk wagon horse showed more intelligence than is evidenced by many speeding humans.

Here's the story—and the good folks of Stamford are going to stick to it. During the wee small hours this particular horse decided to run away. The streets were wide and deserted and the going was fine for a block or so, during which time a lot of milk was delivered—promiscuously. Then came a Stamford intersection and as old Dobyn thundered down upon it, the green light changed to red.

The noble charger dug his cleats into the pavement and stopped dead in his tracks, thereby qualifying himself as a law-abiding plug. The National Safety Council points out this little incident as an evidence of horse-sense—often needed by careless drivers.

If the horseshoe fits, put it on—just for luck!

Drug Store Lunches Costing Millions

Americans Spend Over Four Millions Daily At Soda Fountains

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—The Americans spend an average of $4,109,561 every day at soda fountains.

The nation's annual bill for sodas, soft drinks, luncheons, and confectionery served over the soda fountains in the United States totals $1,500,000,000, it was disclosed at the recent convention of soda fountain manufacturers here.

"Ice cream sodas account for an expenditure of approximately $500,000,000, fountain luncheons for about $300,000,000 annually, and confectionery for $700,000,000," declared a delegate. "There are approximately 100,000 soda fountains in the United States in which their owners have $300,000,000 invested.

"In cities of 100,000 population and over, more than 78 per cent of the soda fountains are now serving luncheons."

Air Transport To Become Big Business

Indiana Senator Will Try To Create State Airport Commission

(International News Service)

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 3.—Predicting that the air transportation business will be the biggest in the country within a decade, State Senator Bruce Cooper, of Evansville, announced he will introduce a bill in the Indiana legislature to create a state airport commission to supervise and control all airports and commercial aviation in Indiana.

Olympic Sprinter Battling Death In Hospital On Coast

(International News Service)

GLENDALE, Cal., Jan. 3.—Frank Wykoff, sensational sprinter of the American Olympic team and the Glendale Junior College today is fighting with death in a local hospital.

He was operated upon to relieve a tonsil which was followed by complications. Attending physicians say his career on the track is threatened and that it is certain he will not wear his spikes this year. He is being given a small amount of blood twice a day.

Wilkes-Barre Nun Is Taken By Death

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Jan. 3.—Mother Alberta, 85, last of the eight nuns who came here from Pittsburgh 55 years ago to establish the order of the Sisters of Mercy in the Scranton Diocese of the Roman Catholic church, died here today. Because of her advanced age, she had been inactive for several years.

MANILA HAS HOSPITAL DAY

To create interest in local hospitals, Manila held a Hospital Day recently. The hospitals held open house for visitors and at night a torch parade and program were featured on the University of Philippines campus. All hospitals were represented in the parade. Jorge Bocolo, acting president of the university was principal speaker at the exercises.

All winter resorts are alike in one particular. The current weather, according to the natives, is very unusual.

Re-Elect New Castle Man Vice President Of State Game Commission Today

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—John J. Slautterback who has been acting as executive secretary of the board of game commissioners today was selected for the port at the monthly meeting.

Prior to the retirement of John B. Truman as executive secretary, Slautterback was chief of the bureau of vermin control. Truman retired during the special season for doe deer when hunters were divided in their stand regarding the advisability of the action taken by the commission.

Ross L. Leffler, McKeesport, was re-elected as president of the board and Jared M. B. Reis, New Castle, vice-president.

During the afternoon session the board expects to draft a report and recommendation on the special doe season which will be presented to Governor John S. Fisher.

Leffler said that the commission would not sponsor any legislation regarding the deer situation but would continue a policy of non-interference.

The board at the morning session considered a petition received from 75 Cambria county farmers which asserted that crops were being damaged and that there is a large surplus of doe in the county. The county was closed by court order to the shooting of does during the special season.

London Night Clubs Must Behave Under New Police Orders

Viscount Byng Of Vimy Ridge, Plans Thorough Investigation Of Situation

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 3.—A stronger drive looking toward a stricter control of London night clubs is shortly to be inaugurated by Viscount Byng of Vimy, the new Commissioner of Metropolitan police.

Although he has held office only a few weeks, Lord Byng has already made a thorough investigation of the night club situation, and is understood to be determined to rid the city of "undesirable" places of amusement, as well as taking the necessary steps to enforce the existing regulations as to the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Under the present laws, spirits cannot be sold in night-clubs after 11 p. m., with the exception of one day a week, when the license is extended for an additional hour. Recent inquiries into allegations of grave irregularities in the enforcement of this law have disclosed amazing revelations, including evidence that police officers were paid huge sums in "graft" and "hush money."

It was stated during a recent investigation that a sergeant of the Metropolitan Police had received approximately $200,000 for merely closing his eye to law violations in night clubs under his supervision.

A large number of night clubs, whose proprietors were accused of permitting drinking and gambling until three or four o'clock in the morning have already been closed down, and others are expected shortly to follow suit.

CABS COMPETE WITH TAXIS

City officials of Alexandria, Egypt, are encouraging the horse cabs of the city as a competitor for the taxicabs. They recently ordered a reduction of taxi rates, and when motions were introduced to bar the 1700 horse cabs from the main street or to suppress them and indemnify the drivers as was done in Athens, the plan to foster them was adopted.

Philadelphia Gunmen Ordered From Jersey, Threatened By Death

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—"Get out of New Jersey or be killed" was the warning issued to Philadelphia racketeers and gangsters Wednesday at Trenton by Col. Norman Schwartzkopf, superintendent of the state police.

The colonel's anger was aroused by the recent slayings in South Jersey towns. He issued orders to the various state policemen to shoot to kill if they meet any of Philadelphia's tough characters upon the slightest provocation. Furthermore he ordered them to command all known Pennsylvania criminals to leave the state immediately.

The order read:

"Get Philadelphia gangsters out of New Jersey immediately. Kill them if necessary.

"Visit roadhouses nightly and see that no undesirables from Philadelphia are there. If they are, get rid of them."

Capt. Carter, commanding the Hammonton barracks, conveyed the order to his men immediately and told them: "Let esprite de corps get gangsters out of Jersey or kill them."

Man, Wed Three Times, Woman, Twice Divorced To Marry

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 3.—A couple from Reno, Nev., the city known internationally as a divorce mill, upheld the reputation of their home town in the information they gave while obtaining a license to wed at the Erie county marriage license bureau.

The prospective husband, George E. Sabin, 44, a paper hanger, was taking his fourth wife, and the bride, Dorothy D. Pelizzari, 35, was taking her third husband.

The groom had been divorced twice previously, while one wife had died. The bride was divorced on two previous occasions.

Western Pennsylvania Painters Meet Here

Approximately Seventy - Five Delegates And Others To Attend

Semi-annual conference of the Western Pennsylvania Conference of Union Painters will be held in the Trades and Labor Assembly hall on North Mill street Saturday and Sunday.

Reuben Jones of this city, who is secretary of the conference, states that credentials have already been received for delegates from 18 locals of the district and that delegates and visitors from at least 25 locals are expected.

Delegates to the conference will number at least 50 and delegates and visitors expected will number approximately 75. The delegates and visitors will be tendered a fine dinner by the local union during their stay here.

There will be the general routine business up for consideration, and among other things of importance to be considered will be the regulations that are being made by the State Department of Labor concerning the use of spray guns and also an educational campaign to be staged to cut down the accidents among painters. This campaign will be instructions as to what care should be taken in the use of scaffolds and other means employed by painters in decorating buildings.

The local committee of entertainment consists of John S. Swan, A. I. Broadhead and R. L. Little.

Internal War In Salvation Army

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Behind the scenes a conflict is under way today for control of the executive and administrative machinery of the Salvation Army. The two opposing factions will come to open grips when the 64 members of the high council meet at Sunbury-on-Thames next Tuesday to debate future leadership and changes in the army's constitution.

One faction wants Commander Evangeline Booth, leader of the Salvation Army in America, to succeed her brother, General Bramwell Booth as the supreme head.

Another faction is supporting Commissioner Higgins, chief of the general staff.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Roaming around a divorce court finds a fertile field for human drama, blighted romance, or matrimonial anti-climaxes. It is the beach where are shored the wrecks of the hymenal craft that once set sail out on to the sea of Happiness, but cross winds, deadly calms and verbal storms drove the barques to the rock strewn coast of the Divorce Court.

There is little of comedy in a divorce court, save for those moronic minds that find humor in the tribulations of others. One can find flashes of humor in liquor cases, occasionally it strikes a murder case, but a a divorce court, seldom.

The reasons for the divorce differ slightly. Where one lad beats his wife with his fists, another has beaten her with harsh words, criticism and lack of appreciation and of the two I am inclined to the belief that the latter leaves the worst scars Physical blows heal up quickly, but the bruising effects of heated words often leave marks that stay for years.

Nor is this an attempt at sermonizing or philosophizing. There are too many divorces in Pennsylvania. Under the law they are too easy to procure. Cruel and barbarous treatment is a just cause for divorce, under the law, and this one charge includes everything from actual beatings down to what are really only differences of opinion. Desertion is another cause, infidelity another, and these three are the causes of most of the divorces in Pennsylvania.

If people wouldn't rush into marriage like they rush into a taxi, there wouldn't be so many divorces of course, but then who is going to blight romance, vicarious though it may be. Perhaps that new bill providing for a five day waiting period after the granting of the license will help some. Certainly it can't do any harm.

What to do with that old Christmas tree is a problem which was solved by a contributor last night. But how to get needles out of a Chinese rug is another problem that requires the patience of Job and the skill of a magician. Once the tree begins to shed, every heavy step in the living room brings a shower of needles that means another fifteen minutes work for the housewife.

The argument against the killing of does is still raging and reports from deer counties indicate that there was considerable shooting going on during the season. A friend of mine who lives in Center county and who knows the county thoroughly estimates that 25,000 deer were killed in that county in the past hunting season. If the figure sounds exceptionally high, remember it is not mine.

The street car service out Hamilton street is done. What was once a busy line is now through and the only thing a lot of us will have are memories of it.

No doubt you can remember when the Hamilton street line to Cascade Park was the only one to the resort. When the park was fenced in and the round trip was fifteen cents, five cents out, five cents back, and five cents admission to the park.

Those were the days when the theatre out there was free, save for a few reserved seats for the cognoscenti. You and I sat up on the big rock and listened to the wise cracks of the old time vaudeville stars and listened to such rag time songs (not jazz my friend) as "Do Re Mi Fa So La Si Do." Or "Won't You Come Home Bill Bailey," or "What You Gonna Do When The Rent Comes Round."

There were few amusements in the park in those days. The roller coaster, the merry-go-round, the launch and boats on the lake, the Old Mill, the dancing pavilion where 25 cents bought you dancing all evening, and the zoo.

Remember the time when the park organized the Thursday night Club? One had to get a card to be a member and on Thursday night of each week the pavilion was limited to the members.

Those were the days of peg top trousers, 36 inch coast, four inch cuffs, high choker collars, and button shoes. Hot dawg. With a dollar in his clothes a fellow could take a girl out then and show her the time of her life. Sodas cost a nickel, there were no taxis, the most expensive candy ran from forty to sixty cents a pound, and full dinners in a modest restaurant could be purchased for 35 cents.

Anybody who tipped a waiter over a dime in those days was considered to be loose upstairs, and thirty cents would buy a front seat in the theatre to see Chester De Vonde play "Ten Ton Door."

Things have changed. The old street car line is abandoned and with it go a lot of memories of pleasant days. A lot of us still owe the street car company for rides hooked 'n on the open cars after the O & P league games out at the Cascade Ball Park, but then Chris Coulthard will hardly want to press payment now.

Famous Recipe For Stopping a Severe Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, soothes away the inflammation, and loosens the germ-laden phlegm. At the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Recent Operation On Fractured Knee Cap Is Proving Successful

Robert C. Love, Lincoln avenue, well known banker of this city who sustained a fracture of one of his knee caps recently in a fall into the elevator pit of the Greer building, is now recovering in good shape at the Shenango Valley hospital from the effects of a recent operation in which the fracture was reduced and the bones drawn together.

The operation was entirely successful as far as present conditions are concerned and Mr. Love hopes to be able to return to his home today or in the very near future.

Workers Organize In Second Baptist

Seven Teams Enroll For Visitation Campaign At Meeting Wednesday Evening

The meeting held in the Second Baptist church which was called by the pastor Rev. W. W. Nelson Wednesday evening for the purpose of perfecting arrangements with his members for the visitation evangelistic campaign during the week of January 6 proved very successful.

Much interest was manifested by the members and a check up showed that the Second Baptist church has 81 prospects.

Seven teams of men and women enrolled as follows: Mrs. Mary Coffey, Mrs. Katherine Enks, Miss Elinora Lott, Mrs. Gertrude Rose, Mrs. Etta Davis, Mrs. Cora Duffin, H. T. Engs, Rev. S. Coleman, A. Alexander, William Pack, A. Eggleson, James Rose, C. H. Watson and Otis Taylor.

On Friday evening January 4 Dr. Kernahan will meet the workers of the city on the Second Baptist church at 7:30 or 8 o'clock to give first hand instructions to all workers and on Tuesday evening January 8 the members of the Second Baptist congregation will serve lunches to all workers in the Elm street Y. W. C. A. The lunch will be free. An inspirational meeting will be conducted by Dr. Kernahan after hearing all reports.

The meeting at the Elm street Y. W. C. A. will be conducted each evening throughout the week mentioned above.

Old Sores and Ulcers Can Be Healed!

"This sincere letter," says Peterson, "gave me another happy day and as nearly every mail brings praise for Peterson's Ointment, is it any wonder that I keep cheerful all the time?"

"Dear Sirs: I had a bad leg for 20 years, tried everything but no benefit. I tried Peterson's Ointment and five 35 cent boxes healed my leg. I can never praise it enough. My leg was so painful at first that I had to put fresh ointment on every two hours, night and day. It stopped the pain at once. Mrs. Mark Richards, Lake Linden, Mich."

Besides running and old sores and ulcers, Peterson's Ointment is just as good for piles, eczema, itching skin, sore feet, prickly heat, sunburn, chafing, cuts, burns, bruises, scalds and scores of other ailments as any druggist anywhere will tell you. A generous box 35 cents.
